U.S. Says Bomb To Incite Panic

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Soviet Union's huge nuclear burst—which may double the fallout coming from all the current Soviet tests—has been denounced by the White House as a device to incite "fright and panic."

The immediate fallout from the blast is expected to reach North America in three to five days.

The White House statement, obviously issued with President Kennedy's approval, said the Soviet effort to spread fear will be repelled—"not only by the steadfastness of free men but by the power of the arms which men will use to defend their freedom."

The test, said the White House, does not affect the nuclear balance of power. It said the United States has "ample military power to destroy any nation which would unleash thermonuclear war."

There was no official word on what bearing the explosion may have on the possibility of the United States resuming tests in the atmosphere.

In Moscow, Premier Nikita Khrushchev declared today the giant bomb exploded Monday exceeded the 50-megaton calculation of the scientists but "we won't get angry with them for this."

The statement was made in a brief speech at the closing session of the Communist party congress in the Kremlin. It was the first announcement in Russia that the bomb had been exploded, and even then it was made first only to a restricted session of the congress.

"The scientists made a slight mistake in the evaluation of the bomb," Khrushchev said. "It proved somewhat bigger than 50-megatons, but we won't get angry with them for this."

The shadow of Monday's 50-megaton explosion—the invisible cloud of radioactive fallout—began its wind-borne sweep around the world.

U.S. Weather Bureau specialists said wind patterns indicate the immediate fallout was being carried southeastward from its point of detonation in the Soviet Arctic.

Robert List, one of the bureau's fallout specialists, said the mass of radioactive ash would likely swing east ultimately and would "reach the North American continent in three to five days, depending on the winds."

The gigantic blast—which the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission estimated at 50 megatons—may have doubled the fallout unleashed by all the previous blasts in the Soviet series which began Sept. 1.

Until Monday's explosion, the Soviets were estimated to have detonated bombs with a total yield of more than 50 megatons of energy yield—including the big Oct. 23 explosion which U.S. scientists now estimate at 25 megatons. A megaton is equal to one million tons of TNT in energy.

Thus, with a single 50-megaton bomb, the Russians almost equalled the explosive force of more than two dozen earlier tests. The blast could have created almost as much lingering fallout as all the previous tests, depending on how "dirty" it was.

Dr. Ralph E. Lapp, a nuclear scientist who is outside the government, said he believes the monster bomb was a very dirty one.

Giggling Youth Sets Blazes, Dances Away

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A firebug, described by one witness as a pimply faced, giggling 6-footer, left a fiery trail through downtown San Francisco Monday night and early today.

Police and fire officials pressed a search for the arsonist, who, after setting fires in nine leading hotels, moved into another downtown district and set several more fires in trash piles.

Most of the blazes were extinguished before they did any serious damage, Fire Chief William Murray said. But a fire on the 14th floor of the Fielding Hotel, started in a linen closet, did an estimated $10,000 damage.

The rash of fires, Murray said, were all set by the same person. The first hotel blaze began at 5:30 p.m. in an unoccupied room on the fourth floor of the Stewart Hotel on Geary Street. Three minutes later, the fire broke out in the Fielding just across the street.

In rapid succession, similar blazes were reported at the St. Francis, Clift, Bellevue, Marlow and Sir Francis Drake hotels in the theater district.

There was a lull until after 10 p.m., when a fire was reported in a top-floor stairwell at the YMCA Hotel. A short time later, the Sheraton-Palace hotel reported two trash cans in the basement had been set afire.

Police were stationed on guard duty at many downtown hotels. After midnight a series of trash pile fires erupted in the area south of Market Street.

The description came from a guest of one of the hotels, who told officers he saw a tall youth "dancing" away from the hotel "giggling to himself and laughing" about the time the blaze was discovered there.

TWA Pilots To Strike

CHICAGO (AP)—A strike of some 1,500 Trans World Airlines pilots has been called for 11:59 p.m., local time Thursday.

Three Injured in Collision Near Southern Limits of City

Three persons were taken to Berger Hospital and treated for injuries received in a two-car crash at about 6 p. m. yesterday on Route 23 near the southern limits of the city.

State Highway Patrol officers said William C. DePriest, 29, of Route 1, Chillicothe, suffered scalp lacerations. David S. Davis, 24, Oak Hill, driver of the other auto, received abrasions and lacerations of the face and leg. Mrs. Jane Davis, a passenger, was treated for lacerations of the face and four fractured ribs.

Hospital authorities said all three patients were treated and released.

State Patrolmen said the accident occurred when DePriest made a left turn from S. Court St. into the northbound lane of Route 23.

Finland Studies Soviet Request

Mutual Pact Asked Against West Germany

LIHUE, Kauai, Hawaii, (AP)—President Urho K. Kekkonen of Finland sent his foreign minister home Monday to handle a Soviet request for a joint defense pact against West Germany.

Foreign Minister Ahti Karjalainen headed by plane today for Helsinki by way of San Francisco. The Finnish president stayed behind to complete his visit to Hawaii. He was to leave this afternoon for Los Angeles, last stop on his tour of the United States.

The U.S.S.R. called on Finland to join with it to thwart what the Soviets called a growing West German threat to use the Baltic Sea as a jumping off place for war. The move was seen as an effort to bring independent Finland in line with Warsaw Pact nations.

Kekkonen and his official party would not comment on the proposal.

It took several hours to get word to Kekkonen on the Soviet bid. He was sightseeing on the east coast of Maui Island, about 130 miles from Honolulu.

Kekkonen conferred with Karjalainen and other officials on the beach after an urgent telephone call to the foreign minister from Finland's ambassador to the United Nations.

Karjalainen then announced he had been ordered home.

Russians Complain About U.S. Spying

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Defense Ministry complained today that U.S. planes and ships spied intensively on the just-completed series of Soviet rocket shots into the Pacific.

The ministry's paper, Red Star, quoted the command of the Soviet observation fleet as saying: "U.S. ships and planes did not leave the target area and the Soviet ships in peace even for a single moment."

"U.S. aviation daily buzzed Soviet ships, flying dangerously low. These planes flew virtually a few inches above our aerobics. The U.S. ships maneuvered in such a way that they interfered with our work."

The article added that the rocket shots landed with great accuracy in the predetermined target area after traveling 7,500 miles from the launching point in the Soviet Union.

Van Fleet Raps Adlai's Stand

Retired General Gives Cuban Invasion Views

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—The Tampa Tribune quotes Gen. James A. Van Fleet as saying Adlai E. Stevenson, ambassador to the United Nations, should have been fired because of the Cuban invasion which fizzled.

Van Fleet said also that Berlin and Laos are lost and that there is only a 50-50 chance of keeping South Viet Nam out of Communist control, the Tribune said in today's editions.

Van Fleet, former commander of the 8th Army in Korea, was to report to Ft. Bragg, N.C., today. He was called out of retirement to supervise the training of Army units in guerrilla warfare.

The Tribune said Van Fleet departed from his text in a talk on Florida's water resources before the Natural Resources and Waterways Committee in nearby Lakeland Monday night.

The newspaper quoted Van Fleet as saying, "I would not like to read tomorrow that which I say tonight."

He was quoted as saying Berlin was lost when "they made the agreement at the end of World War II."

The Tribune account added: He said Viet Nam has a strong national pride, "but a white face has no place in that country."

Van Fleet said Stevenson "should have been fired when he said he would not support the armed action by this country against (Fidel) Castro during the ill-fated Cuban invasion."

The general said this country sponsored the invasion and gave full Navy escort and air cover to and from training bases that the United States established. After Stevenson took his stand, Van Fleet said, the United States refused to go through with plans to give direct support to the landing force.

Newport Ouster Hearing Resumes

NEWPORT, Ky. (AP)—The ouster hearings against two Campbell County officials accused of ignoring vice and gambling resume here today.

The accused officials are Sheriff Norbert Roll and Harry Stuart, chief of county police.

At the same time a federal grand jury will be impaneled at Cincinnati, just across the Ohio River. The grand jury is expected to investigate numbers racket activities in Newport and the greater Cincinnati area.

J. D. Buckman, attorney for Roll, said Monday he will call numerous character witnesses on his client's behalf, as well as witnesses to show Roll has performed his duty.

Levy Is Needed

(AN EDITORIAL)

Adequate operation of the Circleville School System faces a stern test at the Nov. 7 election.

The City Board of Education is asking for a four-mill operating levy which is essentially a renewal. The four mills were approved by voters five years ago, but a real estate re-evaluation in Pickaway County reduced the measure to 3.4 mills just one year after passage. This means our schools had the full benefit of four mills for only one year. It also means they have been operating the last four years on 3.4 mills.

The additional six-tenths mills, as asked by the ballots of next Tuesday, will add approximately $24,000 in needed operating funds.

This additional income would pay the salary of approximately four of the seven teachers needed to open new classrooms at S. Court St. and Nicholas Drive Elementary Schools next September when they will be pressed into service to meet Circleville's ever-increasing enrollment.

RESPONSIBLE citizen voters are aware that it is vital to the community to maintain a high quality of education in our schools. However, the Circleville situation could easily tilt to the doubtful side.

A record study shows local schools spent $272.22 on instruction of each child enrolled last year. This figure is very low in comparison of other Ohio cities. Circleville's rank in per-pupil expenditure for instruction was 130 out of 137 cities in the state.

Our low per-pupil expenditure points to the logical deduction that local schools have been operated with necessary economy.

An all-out effort has been made to meet the vital educational needs of our students. Surely a false economy would exist if the city tried to operate its schools on a budget so low it would "short change" the education of our boys and girls.

Here is another reason for the urgent renewal appeal:

Enrollment in Circleville schools has doubled in the last nine years. A growing system, like the one here, needs an additional classroom and an additional teacher for every 25 to 30 added pupils.

Circleville has maintained an excellent staff and curriculum in spite of its low budget. Progress has been accomplished. This can be continued only through community cooperation and support.

WHAT tax dollar is more wisely and economically spent than the one for education? Current events prove our children need and deserve the best possible instruction to compete in this highly specialized world. Failure of communities to carry the responsibility of educating their youth is leading the country to more and more federal aid to education. It is easy to see this only means deriving money from other tax sources, plus a strong eventuality of greater loss of local school control.

With these views in mind, we urge voters Tuesday to renew the levy which will add the six-tenths mills lost four years ago by property re-evaluation. In this complex age we are all concerned with our money. We should also be concerned with our children.

Ike Stands by Kennedy Plan To Defy International Bullies

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower says the United States needs leadership "which would never belittle the United States" and "never extends a welcome to such an outlaw as Red China."

"I am sure that I voice the determination of all—regardless of party—in saying that we will stand by the President as he devotes his energies to defying the international bullies and protecting American rights and liberties," Eisenhower said in a speech Monday night.

The speech climaxed a series of appearances by Eisenhower in behalf of a Republican congressional candidate.

Among other things, the ex-

president (1) defended the sale of F86 jet fighters to Yugoslavia, saying the planes were obsolete; (2) said the United States has no choice except to test atomic weapons; (3) said the "century-old one-party (Democratic) system is a calamity for the South," and (4) criticized big government with its "indiscriminate federal handouts" and "spendthrift programs."

In his speech to a crowd of 9,000, Eisenhower drew on the loudest of frequent cheers when he called for "the kind of leadership which would never belittle the United States and thus dismay our friends and hearten our enemies, that stands steadfastly in all international councils for principle and right, and never extends a welcome to such an outlaw as Red China is today."

Republican leaders were jubilant over Eisenhower's appearance in behalf of John W. Goode, the lone Republican in Saturday's special congressional election.

Goode, 38, and four Democrats seek the seat from which Democrat Paul Kilday resigned last month to become a federal judge.

Goode's chief opponent is State Sen. Henry B. Gonzalez, 45, who has the backing of President Kennedy and Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson.

He said he believed his country had finished its current series of tests.

But with unusual vehemence, the Cairo paper Al-Gumhuriya said future generations "will curse the hour" of the Soviet blast, which it said marked "the beginning of the end—the end of light and humanity."

The British government denounced the latest Soviet blast as "wanton disregard for the welfare and safety of the human race." It prepared to issue emergency supplies of dried milk for babies should fresh milk become dangerously contaminated from radioactive fallout.

Other governments prepared to test milk, green vegetables and other foods for radioactivity.

British Queen Calls For Disarmament

LONDON (AP)—Queen Elizabeth II pledged today that Britain will do its utmost to achieve world disarmament despite the Soviet Union's "nuclear tests on a massive scale in defiance of world opinion."

Opening the new session of Parliament with her traditional speech written by Prime Minister Macmillan's Conservative government, she said the government also will continue to negotiate for a Berlin settlement "which will preserve the security and freedom of the people of West Berlin."

Anti-Russian Demonstrations Are Staged

Government Leaders Condemn Explosions As Madness, Brutal

LONDON (AP)—Shock waves of anger and condemnation beat around the world today as a result of the Soviet Union's superbomb blasts.

Anti-Soviet demonstrations were staged in Britain and Italy. Government leaders condemned the nuclear explosions as bald defiance of world opinion. Newspapers denounced the blasts as madness, a brutal crime against humanity, as a terror intended to force the non-Communist world into cowering surrender.

The Soviet press and radio made no mention of Monday's big bomb blast, the most powerful ever set off by man.

But Soviet Premier Khrushchev told a restricted meeting of the Soviet party congress in the Kremlin at its closing session Monday. He said it "proved somewhat bigger" than the 50 megatons that the scientists had calculated "but we won't get angry with them for this."

A hint that the tests were over was seen in a Moscow radio report that a convoy of transport ships and icebreakers was forming to leave the area of Novaya Zemlya, the arctic island site of the experiments believed to have culminated in an explosion of about 50 megatons.

Seismographs in Sweden and Britain recorded a new shock wave today. A seismologist at Kew Observatory in England said the shock may have been from a 15 or 20-megaton nuclear device, but scientists at Sweden's Uppsala Observatory said it appeared to be a normal earth tremor.

Using unusually strong language, Indian Prime Minister Nehru declared Monday's giant explosion was highly regrettable and "no amount of argument that it was done in self-defense could wash off the wrong."

But most African and Asian government leaders were silent or mild in their reaction.

Thousands of Italian students left classrooms and demonstrated in Rome and other cities and clashed with police in some places.

Demonstrators in London staged a sitdown outside the Soviet Embassy and about 24 were arrested when they attempted to invade the embassy.

A deputation of five young campaigners for nuclear disarmament was admitted to the London Embassy and was told by the second secretary, Gennady Stepanov, that the Soviet Union had decided to resume the nuclear tests started Sept. 1 "with an aching heart."

"My country wanted to sober up some of the generals in the Pentagon by these nuclear tests," he explained, denying the Soviet Union was trying to terrorize the world.

He said he believed his country had finished its current series of tests.

But with unusual vehemence, the Cairo paper Al-Gumhuriya said future generations "will curse the hour" of the Soviet blast, which it said marked "the beginning of the end—the end of light and humanity."

Yule Decorations Meet Scheduled

Initial plans for the annual Christmas decorations in Circleville will be formulated at a special meeting slated today.

The local Christmas Decoration Committee will discuss this year's program when they gather at 8 p. m. in Paul's Dairy Store, W. Main St. All interested merchants are invited.

Paul Brown, local insurance agent, is president of the decorations group.

Mayor Gives Lowdown On 'Keys to City'

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Mayor Kenneth Oka handed out a batch of keys to the city and police courtesy cards—and gave the lowdown on both.

Welcoming the Air Traffic Control Association to its convention Monday the mayor said: "All the time I've been mayor, I've never found a door the key would open—not even the men's wash room." "And the police courtesy cards—they just mean that while here you should be courteous to our police."

Three Injured in Collision Near Southern Limits of City

Three persons were taken to Berger Hospital and treated for injuries received in a two-car crash at about 6 p. m. yesterday on Route 23 near the southern limits of the city.

State Highway Patrol officers said William C. DePriest, 29, of Route 1, Chillicothe, suffered scalp lacerations.

David S. Davis, 24, Oak Hill, driver of the other auto, received abrasions and lacerations of the face and leg. Mrs. Jane Davis, a passenger, was treated for lacerations of the face and four fractured ribs.

Hospital authorities said all three patients were treated and released.

State Patrolmen said the accident occurred when DePriest made a left turn from S. Court St. into the northbound lane of Route 23.

DAVIS said he was driving north on Route 23 at about 50 miles per hour when DePriest's car made a left turn into the northbound lane of traffic. He said he turned his car to the right in an unsuccessful attempt to avoid hitting the auto.

Both vehicles were heavily damaged, according to the State Highway Patrol.

DePriest was cited in Circleville Municipal Court for driving while under the influence of intoxicants.

He was fined $250 and costs and sentenced to 15 days in jail by Judge Sterling Lamb. His operator's license was suspended for one year.

Tax Books Remain Open Added Week

Payment books for the second half personal property tax collection of 1961 will be open until next Tuesday, County Treasurer Robert Wood has announced. After the extended deadline the books will be closed and balanced. Delinquent lists will be compiled and a 10 per cent penalty added for late payments.

Hurricane Brings Floods To Honduras

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Giant hurricane Hattie smashed into British Honduras today, possibly inflicting a disaster on the capital city of Belize, and spread flash floods through the British crown colony and on deep into Guatemala.

Miami Weather Bureau storm forecasters said Belize, a city of 31,000 population, may have suffered a disaster as a 15-foot tide pushed up by the hurricane blasted the coastline.

Such a tide, said forecaster Gilbert Clark, might have engulfed the city.

The hurricane center struck directly at Belize at 7:30 a.m. (EST). For hours, the city was pounded by mighty winds and tides.

At 11 a.m. (EST), Hattie was centered near latitude 17 north, longitude 88.8 west, about 50 miles southwest of Belize. It was moving west-southwest at 10 miles per hour.

The steady hurricane winds around the center had dropped from 150 to 100 m.p.h. Clark said Belize took the highest winds and strongest tides the storm could throw.

Van Fleet Raps Adlai's Stand

The speech climaxed a series of appearances by Eisenhower in behalf of a Republican congressional candidate.

Among other things, the ex-president (1) defended the sale of F86 jet fighters to Yugoslavia, saying the planes were obsolete; (2) said the United States has no choice except to test atomic weapons; (3) said the "century-old one-party (Democratic) system is a calamity for the South," and (4) criticized big government with its "indiscriminate federal handouts" and "spendthrift programs."

In his speech to a crowd of 9,000, Eisenhower drew on the loudest of frequent cheers when he called for "the kind of leadership which would never belittle the United States and thus dismay our friends and hearten our enemies, that stands steadfastly in all international councils for principle and right, and never extends a welcome to such an outlaw as Red China is today."

Republican leaders were jubilant over Eisenhower's appearance in behalf of John W. Goode, the lone Republican in Saturday's special congressional election.

Goode, 38, and four Democrats seek the seat from which Democrat Paul Kilday resigned last month to become a federal judge. Goode's chief opponent is State Sen. Henry B. Gonzalez, 45, who has the backing of President Kennedy and Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson.

The eight face charges of interfering with interstate transportation, a crime punishable by a 20-year prison term and a $10,000 fine on conviction. They also are charged with conspiracy.

The indictments grew out of two waves of violence May 14 that first blocked the departure of a regularly scheduled Greyhound bus, then destroyed it.

Among the 17 persons on the bus were nine Freedom Riders—five Negroes and four white persons—on a tour of the South testing bus station segregation.

The defendants, all of the Aniston area, are Kenneth L. Adams, 41; Frank B. Johnson, 42; Jerome Byron Couch, 25; Jerry Willingham, 23; William Chappell, 40; Jerry Ronald Eason, 23; Frank Tolbert, 54; and Roger Dale Cough, 19.

U.N. Jets on Patrol Against Katanga Planes

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—The U.N. command said today five Swedish jets are patrolling the Katanga frontier to "deter" Katanga planes from attacking forces of the central Congo government.

The announcement did not make clear, however, whether U.N. forces would take any action against central government troops which the Katanga governments claims have invaded the secessionist province and are razing villages and murdering women and children.

Anti-Russian Demonstrations Are Staged

Government Leaders Condemn Explosions As Madness, Brutal

LONDON (AP)—Shock waves of anger and condemnation beat around the world today as a result of the Soviet Union's super-bomb blasts.

Anti-Soviet demonstrations were staged in Britain and Italy. Government leaders condemned the nuclear explosions as bald defiance of world opinion. Newspapers denounced the blasts as madness, a brutal crime against humanity, as a terror intended to force the non-Communist world into cowering surrender.

The Soviet press and radio made no mention of Monday's big bomb blast, the most powerful ever set off by man.

But Soviet Premier Khrushchev told a restricted meeting of the Soviet party congress in the Kremlin at its closing session Russia's big bomb was exploded Monday. He said it "proved somewhat bigger" than the 50 megatons that the scientists had calculated "but we won't get angry with them for this."

A hint that the tests were over was seen in a Moscow radio report that a convoy of transport ships and icebreakers was forming to leave the area of Novaya Zemlya, the arctic island site of the experiments believed to have culminated in an explosion of about 50 megatons.

Seismographs in Sweden and Britain recorded a new shock wave today. A seismologist at Kew Observatory in England said the shock may have been from a 15 or 20-megaton nuclear device, but scientists at Sweden's Uppsala Observatory said it appeared to be a normal earth tremor.

Using unusually strong language, Indian Prime Minister Nehru declared Monday's giant explosion was highly regrettable and "no amount of argument that it was done in self-defense could wash off the wrong."

But most African and Asian government leaders were silent or mild in their reaction.

Thousands of Italian students left classrooms and demonstrated in Rome and other cities and clashed with police in some places.

Demonstrators in London staged a sitdown outside the Soviet Embassy and about 24 were arrested when they attempted to invade the embassy.

A deputation of five young campaigners for nuclear disarmament was admitted to the London Embassy and was told by the second secretary, Gennady Stepanov, that the Soviet Union had decided to resume the nuclear tests started Sept. 1 "with an aching heart."

"My country wanted to sober up some of the generals in the Pentagon by these nuclear tests," he explained, denying the Soviet Union was trying to terrorize the world.

He said he believed his country had finished its current series of tests.

But with unusual vehemence, the Cairo paper Al-Gumhuriya said future generations "will curse the hour" of the Soviet blast, which it said marked "the beginning of the end—the end of light and humanity."

The British government denounced the latest Soviet blast as "wanton disregard for the welfare and safety of the human race."

It prepared to issue emergency supplies of dried milk for babies should fresh milk become dangerously contaminated from radioactive fallout.

Other governments prepared to test milk, green vegetables and other foods for radioactivity.

British Queen Calls For Disarmament

LONDON (AP)—Queen Elizabeth II pledged today that Britain will do its utmost to achieve world disarmament despite the Soviet Union's "nuclear tests on a massive scale in defiance of world opinion."

Opening the new session of Parliament with her traditional speech written by Prime Minister Macmillan's Conservative government, she said the government also will continue to negotiate for a Berlin settlement "which will preserve the security and freedom of the people of West Berlin."

Yule Decorations Meet Scheduled

Initial plans for the annual Christmas decorations in Circleville will be formulated at a special meeting slated today.

The local Christmas Decoration Committee will discuss this year's program when they gather at 8 p. m. in Paul's Dairy Store, W. Main St. All interested merchants are invited.

Paul Brown, local insurance agent, is president of the decorations group.

Mayor Gives Lowdown On 'Keys to City'

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Mayor Kenneth Oka handed out a batch of keys to the city and police courtesy cards—and gave the lowdown on both.

Welcoming the Air Traffic Control Association to its convention Monday the mayor said: "All the time I've been mayor, I've never found a door the key would open—not even the men's wash room. "And the police courtesy cards—they just mean that while here you should be courteous to our police."

Farm Land Prices Show Climb Again

WASHINGTON (AP) — A prolonged boom in farm real estate prices has started moving upward again after the rest period of last fall and winter.

The Agriculture Department reported today that market values of farm land on July 1 averaged 1 per cent above last March 1 and 2 per cent above July 1, 1960. Most of this gain was contributed by rising values in 28 states, mostly along the eastern seaboard, in the south central part of the country and in mountain and Pacific regions.

Values in the corn belt were up very slightly, whereas last fall they showed a downward trend.

The total market value of farm real estate (land and buildings) was estimated at $138.4 billion on July 1, an increase of $3.3 billion over a year earlier. Farm buildings currently represent about 21 per cent of the total value.

A major share of all land purchases in several areas of the country was said to have been for the purpose of enlarging existing farms. Nearly 40 per cent of all sellers were at least 60 years old.

Non-farmers were said to constitute a smaller proportion of all buyers than in the previous year.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Exports of several U.S. farm products are easing off from year-ago levels.

The Foreign Agricultural Service reported today exports of feed grains in the first two months of the 1961-62 season were down 26 per cent from a year earlier. They totaled 1.3 million tons, compared with 1.8 million in the like period last year.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Weather Bureau reports that seeding of the 1962 winter wheat crop is close to completion in the Great Plains, the major producing area.

The acreage is smaller, reflecting a requirement under the government's crop control program that growers plant 10 per cent less than 1961 crop allotments.

A crop bulletin said harvesting of this year's corn crop was being delayed by high moisture content of the grain. In some areas, farmers were said to be giving priority to harvesting soybeans.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department predicts that slaughter of hogs this month and next will run 10 per cent above last November and December. The increase would be accompanied, officials said, by further declines in hog prices.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

Most of Northern Ohio was clear this morning, but to the south skies were overcast, and light drizzle was falling in Cincinnati.

Temperatures shortly before sunrise ranged from 46 at Toledo to 54 at Columbus and 63 at Cincinnati.

A weak cold front lying across the Southern Ohio counties this morning was responsible for cloudiness and light rain. Another front was entering the Northern Great Lakes Region, and cooler air behind this front will flow over Ohio tonight and Wednesday.

Temperatures will be lower by 10 degrees or more tonight, but sunshine Wednesday afternoon will lift readings into the 50s or low 60s.

Thanksgiving Proclamation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Following is the text of President John F. Kennedy's proclamation for Thanksgiving Day, 1961:

"It is a good thing to give thanks unto the Lord."

"More than three centuries ago, the Pilgrims, after a year of hardship and peril, humbly and reverently set aside a special day upon which to give thanks to God for their preservation and for the good harvest from the virgin soil upon which they had labored. Grave and unknown dangers remained. Yet by their faith and by their toil they had survived the rigors of the harsh New England winter. Hence they paused in their labors to give thanks for the blessings that had been bestowed upon them by Divine Providence.

"This year, as the harvest draws near its close and the year approaches its end, awesome perils again remain to be faced. Yet we have, as in the past, ample reason to be thankful for the abundance of our blessings. We are grateful for the blessings of faith and health and strength and for the imperishable spiritual gifts of love and hope. We give thanks, too, for our freedom as a nation; for the strength of our arms and for the faith of our friends; for the beliefs and confidence we share; for our determination to stand firmly for what we believe to be right and to resist mightily what we believe to be base; and for the heritage of liberty bequeathed by our ancestors which we are privileged to preserve for our children and our children's children.

"It is right that we should be grateful for the plenty amidst which we live; the productivity of our farms, the output of our factories, the skill of our artisans, and the ingenuity of our inventors. But in the midst of our thanksgiving, let us not be unmindful of the plight of those in many parts of the world to whom hunger is no stranger and the plight of those millions more who live without the blessings of liberty and freedom. With some we are able to share our material abundance through our food-for-peace program and through our support of the United Nations freedom-from-hunger campaign. To all we can offer the sustenance of hope that we shall not fail in our unceasing efforts to make this a peaceful and prosperous world for all mankind.

Now, therefore, I, John F. Kennedy, President of the United States of America, in consonance with the joint resolution of Congress approved Dec. 26, 1941, which designates the fourth Thursday in November of each year as Thanksgiving Day, do hereby proclaim Thursday, the twenty-third day of November of this year, as a day of national thanksgiving.

"I urge all citizens to make this Thanksgiving not merely a holiday from their labors, but rather a day of contemplation. I ask the head of each family to recount to his children the story of the first New England Thanksgiving, thus to impress upon future generations the heritage of this nation born in toil, in danger, in purpose, and in the conviction that right and justice and freedom can through man's efforts persevere and come to fruition with the blessing of God.

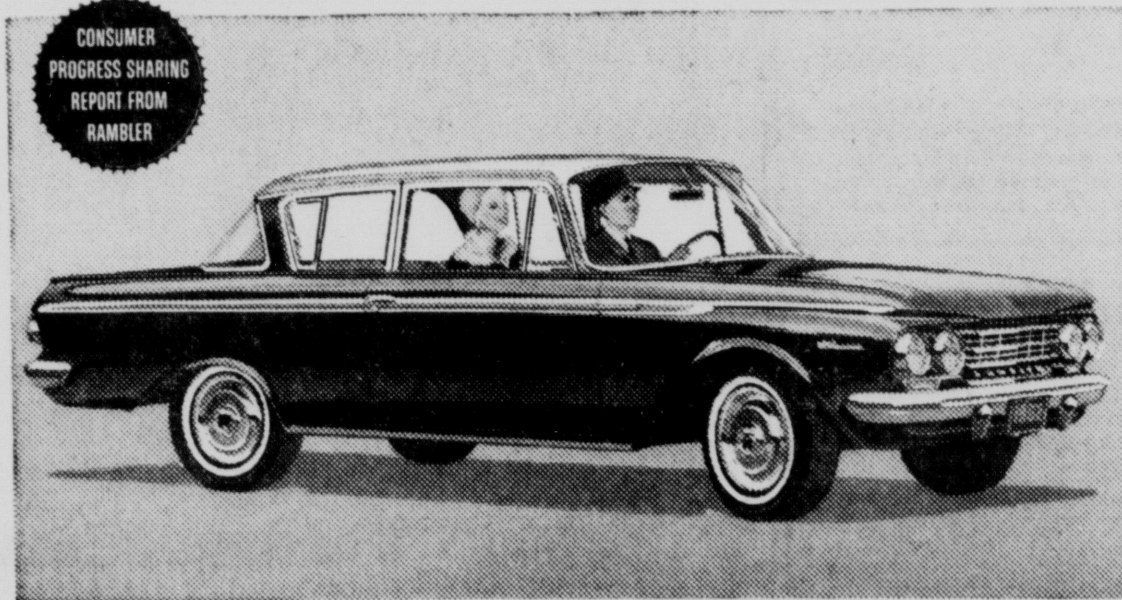

"Let us observe this day with reverence and with prayer that will rekindle in us the will and show us the way not only to preserve our blessings, but also to extend them to the four corners of the earth. Let us by our example, as well as by our material aid, assist all peoples of all nations who are striving to achieve a better life in freedom."

Detroit Hoffa Aide, Trucking Chief Indicted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rolland B. McMaster, secretary-treasurer of Teamsters President James R. Hoffa's local union in Detroit, was indicted by a federal grand jury today on charges of taking nearly $9,000 in illegal payments from the operator of a trucking firm.

The indictment was returned in Detroit.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said the operator of the company, William F. Wolff Sr. of Youngstown, Ohio, was charged with making the payments.

The local is No. 299.

Kennedy said the Detroit indictment named McMaster and Wolff each on 32 counts involving charges of violation of the Taft-Hartley Act which prohibits an employee representative from taking money from an employer, except for wages or other specified reasons, and prohibits employers from making such payments.

McMaster, 47, was accused of taking and Wolff, 51, of giving the payments between December 1956, and July 1, 1959.

The jury said the payments made through Ram Transport, Inc., a Michigan corporation headed by McMaster.

Wolff was identified as president and principal stockholder of the Youngstown Cartage Co., Youngstown, Ohio.

Local 299 has about 15,000 members and is one of the largest locals in the Teamsters Union.

George Roxburgh, a business agent of the local, was indicted by the same grand jury Oct. 6 and similar charges were brought against two officials of a Teamsters local in Chicago last month.

Ohio Old Age Pension Health Bill Climbs

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Health care payments to Ohio's old age pensioners from July through October reached an all-time high, State Auditor James A. Rhodes reported today.

The cost during the four months of this fiscal year amounted to $5,489,056, a jump of $1,304,766 or 31 per cent over the $4,184,290 required to finance the program during the same period last year.

October payments of $1,430,434 were the highest of any month, he said.

New Trailer Tax To Affect About 500 County Families

More than 500 Pickaway County families will be affected by new laws regulating taxation of house trailers. And many of these will find the revised Ohio trailer taxing code a drastic change from past practice.

County Auditor Marvin H. Rhoades made these observations today in reviewing the effects Senate Bill 127 will have locally. The law alters a system of many years standing, whereby trailer owners were assessed a flat $18 or a part of this amount proportional to the length of residence in Ohio.

Heading the new tax system here will be Roger Bowers, of Route 3, Circleville. Bowers is the county's first chief of the Division of House Trailer Taxation. He operates directly under the county auditor's supervision.

Plans call for Bowers to make inspections of local trailer sites and evaluate the mobile homes for tax purposes in much the same manner as real estate valuation is carried out. Bowers, Mrs. Rhoades, real estate officer J. Leo Hedges, County Treasurer Robert Wood and Charles Morris Jr., chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, will attend a meeting in Logan tomorrow to discuss implementation of the new law.

MANY of the trailers situated in Pickaway County are owned by military personnel stationed at Lockbourne Air Force Base. Most of these will be subject to the new tax, the Auditor noted. She advised service personnel to contact her office to determine their tax status.

Another major change will be the time of payment. Taxes must be paid by Jan. 1 under the new law. The system will operate on a calendar year basis. In the past payments have been due in April.

Remittances are to be paid to the treasurer. Here are some of the most important sections of the new law:

(A) Taxes are to be paid on or before Jan. 1.

(B) The situs (site) of a house trailer used or occupied in this state is the local taxing district wherein the trailer is located on the first day of January, except when a house trailer which is not located in the state on Jan. 1 is acquired or first enters the state, the situs is the local taxing district wherein such trailer is located immediately upon the expiration of a 30-day period commencing with the date of or entrance into this state.

(C) The County auditor shall compute the tax by multiplying the assessable value of the house trailer by the tax rate of the taxing district and shall not be less than $18 in any case.

THE ASSESSABLE value of the house trailer shall be 40 per cent of the amount arrived at by the following computation:

The cost to the owner, or market value at time of purchase (which ever is greater) of the trailer, including improvements, shall be multiplied for the first calendar year in which the trailer is owned by the current owner, by 80 per cent; for the second year by 70 per cent; for the third year by 60 per cent; for the fourth year by 50 per cent; for the fifth year by 40 per cent; provided, when a house trailer which is not located in this state on Jan. 1 is acquired or first enters this state, the assessable value for that year is determined by multiplying the assessable value as computed under the provisions of this section by a fraction whose numerator is the number of full months remaining to the following 31st day of December, commencing with the date of acquisition or entrance into this state, and whose denominator is 12.

If the minimum tax of $18 is applicable to a house trailer not located in this state on Jan. 1, the tax is determined by multiplying $1.50 by the number of full months remaining to the following Dec. 31.

Elderly Driver Hurt in Crash

An 81-year-old Columbus man was taken to Berger Hospital at 4:15 p. m. yesterday following a one-car mishap near the intersection of Routes 104 and 56.

Seymour Dowler, Columbus, received emergency treatment for scalp lacerations and abrasions of the hand at Berger Hospital. He was later transferred to a Columbus hospital.

Sheriff Walton W. Spangler said Dowler attempted to stop at the intersection and his auto skidded into a utility pole.

The Dowler auto, was heavily damaged the sheriff said. He said the car struck the utility pole and skidded into a ditch.

Commissioners' Agenda Light

New Sheriff's Car Considered

Pickaway County's Board of Commissioners dealt with only routine matters during a regular meeting yesterday in their courthouse chambers.

The board authorized payment of $4,000 to the Pickaway County Historical Society to carry on operations the remainder of the year. The funds had been appropriated in the budget established for the current fiscal year and the action taken simply released the money to the Society.

Knollwood Village residents will pay their quarterly lighting assessments at the County Auditor's office rather than the Treasurer's office from now on. The step was taken to provide greater efficiency in the handling of funds.

An expense of $15 was approved for several county officials planning to attend tomorrow's regular Auditor's Conference in Logan.

A NEW type of standardized form to be used by officials when requesting approval by the Commissioners for expenses incurred in attending convention and meetings was given unanimous approval.

The Commissioners met again this morning to consider replacing a sheriff's cruiser wrecked Friday night during an emergency run. No decision was reached and bids will probably be submitted if a new vehicle is to be purchased.

The Commission noted no further action has yet been taken in regard to relocation of the County Welfare Department headquarters. A contractor is preparing plans of remodeling work that must be done if the agency is moved into the building housing the county garage. These plans must be submitted to the Commissioners, who will in turn submit them to the Ohio Department of Welfare. The state department must give approval of the location before the agency can be moved.

UPON registration of a house trailer on or before June 30, the county auditor shall issue an advance payment certificate to be presented to the treasurer with the payment of the tax that is due.

Upon the transfer of ownership of a house trailer, the certificate as to such trailer expires, and the original owner shall immediately remove the certificate.

Should the original owner make application for the registration of another trailer during the year for which the certificate was issued, he may file an application for transfer of the certificate accompanied by a transfer tax of $1.

EVERY operator of a house trailer court or park, or every owner of property used for such purposes when there is no operator, shall keep a register of all house trailers which make use of the court, park or property.

The register must set forth: (1) The name of the owner and all inhabitants of each house trailer; (2) The permanent and temporary post office addresses of all inhabitants; (3) The ages of all inhabitants; (4) The license numbers of all units; (5) The state issuing such licenses; (6) The date of arrival and of departure of each house trailer. The register is open to inspection by the auditor, his agents and all law enforcement agencies at all times.

Any person who is required to keep a register of all house trailers but fails to do so shall be fined not less than $25 nor more than $100.

Any person who is required to keep a register of all house trailers but fails to do so shall be fined not less than $25 nor more than $100.

Improvement Sought for TV Program at High St. School

Unexpected difficulties with the High St. School Airborne Television project has prompted the Circleville Board of Education to take steps for improvement.

George A. Hartman, superintendent of schools, said High St. School currently is unable to receive airborne programs on a successful basis. High St. was set up here as pilot school for the air educational project more than a year ago.

Hartman said the board of education, feeling obligated to make the modern program successful, has approved installation of a proper receiving system. He said range of the previous equipment did not come up to expectations.

The program was launched here shortly after it was announced that the Airborne TV project would be formulated in the Midwest, with operations centering out of Purdue University at Lafayette, Ind. High St. was selected as the pilot or study school in Circleville. Television sets were placed in each room, along with installation of an antenna system.

Hartman said the board hopes to get the High St. program up to a satisfactory basis in order to evaluate it for progress in other schools here.

City Principals Eye Workshop On Reading

Plans are in the making for a future reading workshop for Circleville elementary schools.

Phila Humphreys, the State Department of Education's supervisor of elementary curriculum, met here yesterday to set initial planning for the workshop. The 1½-day special event, the first conducted here since 1954, will be scheduled after Christmas.

Elementary principals and a teacher from each grade not represented by a teaching principal will participate. A half-day will be devoted to the 7th and 8th grade and a whole day for elementary teachers.

On Nov. 9 principals of the various schools will meet with Superintendent George Hartman to outline main topics for the workshop, name resource people, select the keynote speaker and set an exact date.

Hartman said it is felt Circleville has a sound reading program, but stated that the time has come for local elementary schools to re-evaluate their work in search of new progress.

Experiment in Survival

Camp Century, a study in self-preservation under the most extreme conditions, has completed its first season. It was a successful test, but as the commander of the 80-man garrison commented, "five months is the most to ask any man to stay there."

"There" is an eight-building, six-street village carved out of solid ice 45 feet below the Arctic ice cap on the northwest coast of Greenland, 900 miles from the North Pole. Only 18 escape hatches lead from the subsurface ice caverns to the snow-covered surface, and no man leaves his ice haven unless it becomes essential to his health.

A nuclear reactor provides 68 degrees warmth in the buildings, although it is as cold as 60 degrees below zero outside. One of the continuing tasks of life in Camp Century is shaving the ice walls of the streets, because ice has a plastic tendency to flow into the gaps.

Four meals a day are required to offset cold-induced hunger, and soup and coffee are served all day. Fresh water is provided by steaming a hole 175 feet deep in the ice. All conveniences were provided that were possible in such an isolated locale, but the complete divorce from civilization and friends made the experience more one of resigned acceptance than exciting discovery.

Camp Century has proved what should have been obvious. Men can survive a ruined civilization, but life can be boring.

Nuclear Fatalism

While Americans are now alleged to be almost falling over themselves in their avidity for provisioned fallout shelters (a picture few persons have been able to substantiate by personal observation), the U. S. is apparently the only nation that is taking any interest.

Europeans, far closer to Russian rocket sites, have no shelters, no evacuation routes and few civil defense plans. As for U. S. official policy relating to military personnel and dependents if war starts, the only definite plans are to evacuate 487,000 wives and children of service men in Europe if there is time.

Europe has, in fact, developed a vast fatalism. There had been some planning for evacuation shelters and survival kits. As one observer expressed it, "we tossed out the groceries and bought a bottle of Scotch long ago."

Americans as a race aren't old enough for that type of fatalism. And, in view of Soviet planning to remove the biggest obstacle to their world conquest aims, America has the most reason for concern. Russia could be expected to aim its biggest bombs at the United States because of their destructive power and to keep the worst of the fallout away from Russia.

All-out plans for survival should convince the communists that the U. S. means business.

Old-Time Halloween Recalled

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Whatever happened to the old-fashioned Halloween?

This is the night bats fly, witches cackle weirdly as they soar through the sky on jet-fast broomsticks, and skeletons dance in their bones in the streets, pursued by red devils with rubber pitchforks.

Your doorbell may ring many times. If you open it you are likely to see a group of small costumed monsters, each holding up a container.

"Trick or treat!" they yell in chorus.

"Treat, if you please," you answer, and if you hand them a dime each or some pieces of candy, the mollified monsters go on to the next door, usually followed at an unobtrusive distance by a cautious parent.

But what happens if you reply, "Trick!"

Probably nothing. The tiny monsters look uncertainly at each other, then go away. They are so used to getting treats they don't know any tricks to play on a householder to force him into granting their demands.

I don't know when this "trick or treat" ultimatum got started, but a generation ago it wasn't so popular in many parts of the country.

Halloween wasn't an evening of harmless fun but the most dreaded night of the year to grownups. Children were generally more obedient to their elders in those days, but one night of the 365 they threw off the halts and roamed like wild things.

The kids then didn't seek treats from adults. On Halloween they wanted to play tricks. They were one-night rebels, out to ridicule and humiliate the grownups. They were in full revolt against authority.

In the farm areas robust teenagers took a particular joy in pushing over outhouses. In the cities they spilled garbage pails on front porches. They soaped store windows, cars, home windows. They painted or chalked defiant messages on the steps or sidewalks of "the old crank" who seemed to dwell in every neighborhood.

The old-fashioned Halloween was a nuisance and an annoyance to most adults, a time of vexation and often of expense, as some of the pranks were costly if not downright dangerous.

Halloween now—like the Fourth of July—has been gentled into a safer and more harmless holiday. The little demons prefer to be bribed rather than play tricks.

There are those who feel this is because grownups over the years have wisely learned to channel the excess of juvenile spirits into less harmful forms of fun. This might be giving grownups credit for more wisdom than they deserved.

Possibly a better explanation: Why should children rebel any longer on Halloween—since the little demons already have the adult world under their thumb the rest of the year anyway?

DOG LOVERS will be interested in the story of a poodle in Connecticut who objects so violently to the telephone that each time it rings, he jumps on the desk and bites through the wire. After replacing the wire several times—in places the supervisor foolishly figured the poodle wouldn't be able to get at it—a new stratagem was called into play. The phone bell was replaced by a chime. Now, every time the phone chimes the poodle races to see who's at the door.

If we know poodles, however, this new trick will work out just so long. That pooch will have things figured out inside of another two weeks.

Inside You and Yours

How could certified raw milk make one sick?

Pete only drank one glass. But that's enough to give you brucellosis — an infection caused by Brucella germs of cattle, pigs and goats.

About two weeks later Pete began to feel weak. The infection didn't strike with the shaking chills, feverish flush and complete collapse it often brings. Pete merely felt pooped.

Soon his head throbbed and his neck ached. Night sweats drenched his bed. He'd wake up cool and chipper, but each evening his temperature steam-rolled up to 104 degrees, flattening him again.

After several days, the fever began to fade and return, fade and return. His temperature chart looked like a wiggling, undulating snake. Brucellosis is also called undulant fever.

Pete wouldn't eat. Every bone ached. Sleepless and irritable, he'd explode with atomic fury when he had to take medicine.

Doctors were puzzled. They couldn't find any germs in his system. His blood contained no antibodies against Brucella infection. Later, when a second test revealed growing rivers of antibodies, doctors knew he had brucellosis.

Now they wheeled in a big gun — sulfa drugs and antibiotic germ-killers. Pete had to take these for a month and rest still longer.

Brucella bacteria are hard to reach inside body cells. But sooner or later they surrender.

While Brucella germs attack every human organ, in cattle they stay mainly in milk glands and expectant wombs. Because infected cows calve prematurely, the cattle germ is called Brucella abortus.

Brucella abortus doesn't bother expectant mothers any more than other germs.

Farmers, meat packers, butchers and veterinarians are often exposed to infected animal products, but rubber gloves protect and special vaccinations shield them.

Vitamins, rest and nourishing foods all helped Pete recover.

He's still confused about certified milk. No one's told him it's certified against tuberculosis, but not brucellosis!

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP) — Illness—and its prevention—grows more costly. Individuals don't have to be told this. And business is finding it more expensive, too. Both are well aware of the rise in medical and hospital costs in recent years.

More firms are offering employee medical services. This grows both more extensive and more expensive. Companies also are increasingly involved in meeting all or part of their employees' health insurance costs.

Medical fees and hospital care grow more expensive because costs themselves have gone up but also because care is increasingly being widened and improved.

Hospitals have higher operating costs and pay employees more. They also offer services today with equipment unknown a few years back. New drugs, new doctoring and nursing techniques, new equipment—all push up costs.

Adding to the total outlay is that Americans, with increased incomes, are seeking more medical care all the time. Each year a larger share of the spending is for prevention rather than cure.

This all adds up to more than $16 billion a year that Americans now pay for medical service.

Many individuals have had to go into debt to meet costs in major emergencies. But many have had help from various sources little used by earlier generations.

One is from health insurance payments. Insurance companies are estimated to have paid out $3 billion in benefits in 1960.

A second aid to individuals faced with illness or accidents is the growing role of corporate medical departments.

Those offer services all the way from preventative shots for influenza and other epidemics and patching up of on-job injuries to regular and complete medical examinations—the latter usually for the top echelon of executives or key employees.

Bridegroom's Alert

TULSA (AP) — Sometimes marriage must wait for national defense.

Bobby John Schultz and Marsha Ann Cheek were being married when a practice alert sounded. Schultz and two members of the wedding party are members of the 45th Division of the National Guard.

When they dashed out, Miss Cheek waited and when they came back the ceremony resumed and she became Mrs. Schultz.

The National Industrial Conference Board finds the cost of such services up more than 10 per cent in the last five years for 96 companies queried. The firms now pay about $17.5 million a year to provide medical facilities for 890,000 employees.

You're Telling Me!

Vital statistics disclose that men today average an inch taller than their fathers and two inches taller than their grandfathers. And they used to call the 1800s Longfellow's time!

Boys of 18 to 20 are as tall as today's 30-year-old men. The younger generation is measuring up.

Men weigh more today, too. However, in these democratic times they do not necessarily carry more weight.

There are twice as many six-footers entering college today as in 1920. That's higher education.

Women's average height is 5-foot-4½, two inches taller than in 1900. That's in their nylon stocking feet as against cotton stocking feet.

Women's weight has risen from an average of 120 in 1900 to 127 now, in spite of all.

Dr. Millicent Hathaway of the Agriculture Department credits this height increase to nutritious foods and good diet. She means we're eating up.

Nearly all White House visitors are being introduced to rocking chair diplomacy. The President isn't going to get caught off his rocker.

The rocking chair has a disarming effect. Diplomats come in expecting give and take, and they get to and fro.

Since that vertebra trouble, Kennedy has been very careful about climbing in and out of limousines. Probably a matter of autosuggestion.

Farm Land Prices Show Climb Again

WASHINGTON (AP) — A prolonged boom in farm real estate prices has started moving upward again after the rest period of last fall and winter.

The Agriculture Department reported today that market values of farm land on July 1 averaged 1 per cent above last March 1 and 2 per cent above July 1, 1960. Most of this gain was contributed by rising values in 28 states, mostly along the eastern seaboard, in the south central part of the country and in mountain and Pacific regions.

Values in the corn belt were up very slightly, whereas last fall they showed a downward trend.

The total market value of farm real estate (land and buildings) was estimated at $138.4 billion on July 1, an increase of $3.3 billion over a year earlier. Farm buildings currently represent about 21 per cent of the total value.

A major share of all land purchases in several areas of the country was said to have been for the purpose of enlarging existing farms. Nearly 40 per cent of all sellers were at least 60 years old.

Non-farmers were said to constitute a smaller proportion of all buyers than in the previous year.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Exports of several U.S. farm products are easing off from year-ago levels.

The Foreign Agricultural Service reported today exports of feed grains in the first two months of the 1961-62 season were down 26 per cent from a year earlier. They totaled 1.3 million tons, compared with 1.8 million in the like period last year.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Weather Bureau reports that seeding of the 1962 winter wheat crop is close to completion in the Great Plains, the major producing area.

The acreage is smaller, reflecting a requirement under the government's crop control program that growers plant 10 per cent less than 1961 crop allotments.

A crop bulletin said harvesting of this year's corn crop was being delayed by high moisture content of the grain. In some areas, farmers were said to be giving priority to harvesting soybeans.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department predicts that slaughter of hogs this month and next will run 10 per cent above last November and December. The increase would be accompanied, officials said, by further declines in hog prices.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

Most of Northern Ohio was clear this morning, but to the south skies were overcast, and light drizzle was falling in Cincinnati.

Temperatures shortly before sunrise ranged from 46 at Toledo to 54 at Columbus and 63 at Cincinnati.

A weak cold front lying across the Southern Ohio counties this morning was responsible for cloudiness and light rain. Another front was entering the Northern Great Lakes Region, and cooler air behind this front will flow over Ohio tonight and Wednesday.

Temperatures will be lower by 10 degrees or more tonight, but sunshine Wednesday afternoon will lift readings into the 50s or low 60s.

Thanksgiving Proclamation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Following is the text of President John F. Kennedy's proclamation for Thanksgiving Day, 1961:

"It is a good thing to give thanks unto the Lord."

"More than three centuries ago, the Pilgrims, after a year of hardship and peril, humbly and reverently set aside a special day upon which to give thanks to God for their preservation and for the good harvest from the virgin soil upon which they had labored. Grave and unknown dangers remained. Yet by their faith and by their toil they had survived the rigors of the harsh New England winter. Hence they paused in their labors to give thanks for the blessings that had been bestowed upon them by Divine Providence.

"This year, as the harvest draws near its close and the year approaches its end, awesome perils again remain to be faced. Yet we have, as in the past, ample reason to be thankful for the abundance of our blessings. We are grateful for the blessings of faith and health and strength and for the imperishable spiritual gifts of love and hope. We give thanks, too, for our freedom as a nation; for the strength of our arms and for the faith of our friends; for the beliefs and confidence we share; for our determination to stand firmly for what we believe to be right and to resist mightily what we believe to be base; and for the heritage of liberty bequeathed by our ancestors which we are privileged to preserve for our children and our children's children.

"It is right that we should be grateful for the plenty amidst which we live; the productivity of our farms, the output of our factories, the skill of our artisans, and the ingenuity of our inventors. But in the midst of our thanksgiving, let us not be unmindful of the plight of those in many parts of the world to whom hunger is no stranger and the plight of those millions more who live without the blessings of liberty and freedom. With some we are able to share our material abundance through our food-for-peace program and through our support of the United Nations freedom-from-hunger campaign. To all we can offer the sustenance of hope that we shall not fail in our unceasing efforts to make this a peaceful and prosperous world for all mankind.

"Now, therefore, I, John F. Kennedy, President of the United States of America, in consonance with the joint resolution of Congress approved Dec. 26, 1941, which designates the fourth Thursday in November of each year as Thanksgiving Day, do hereby proclaim Thursday, the twenty-third day of November of this year, as a day of national thanksgiving.

"I urge all citizens to make this Thanksgiving not merely a holiday from their labors, but rather a day of contemplation. I ask the head of each family to recount to his children the story of the first New England Thanksgiving, thus to impress upon future generations the heritage of this nation born in toil, in danger, in purpose, and in the conviction that right and justice and freedom can through man's efforts persevere and come to fruition with the blessing of God.

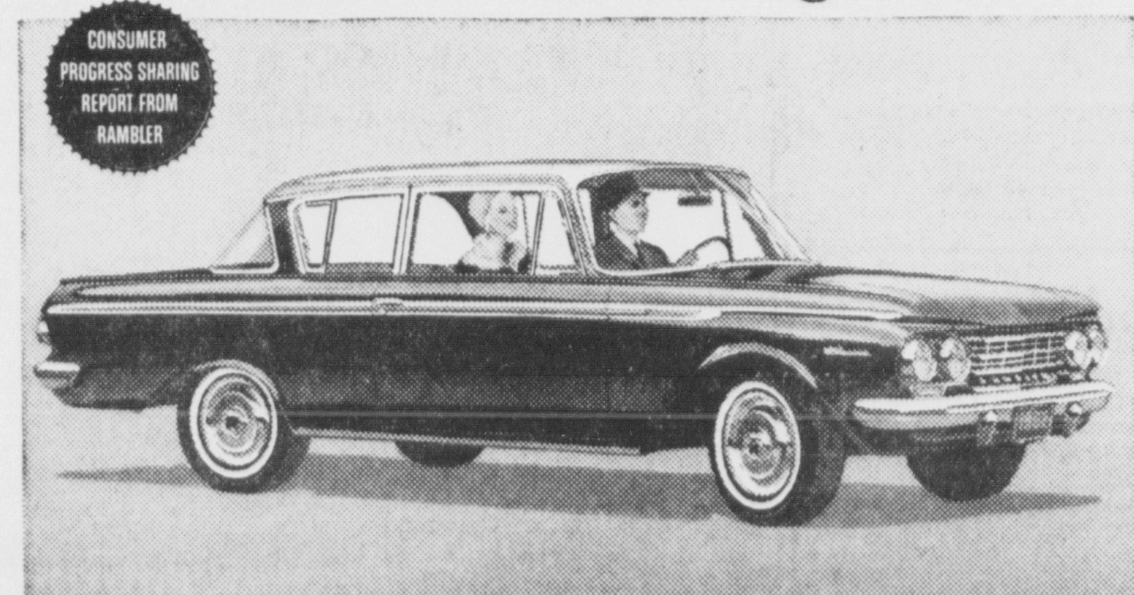

"Let us observe this day with reverence and with prayer that will rekindle in us the will and show us the way not only to preserve our blessings, but also to extend them to the four corners of the earth. Let us by our example, as well as by our material aid, assist all peoples of all nations who are striving to achieve a better life in freedom."

Detroit Hoffa Aide, Trucking Chief Indicted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rolland B. McMaster, secretary-treasurer of Teamsters President James R. Hoffa's local union in Detroit, was indicted by a federal grand jury today on charges of taking nearly $9,000 in illegal payments from the operator of a trucking firm.

The indictment was returned in Detroit.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said the operator of the company, William F. Wolff Sr. of Youngstown, Ohio, was charged with making the payments.

The local is No. 299.

Kennedy said the Detroit indictment named McMaster and Wolff each on 32 counts involving charges of violation of the Taft-Hartley Act which prohibits an employee representative from taking money from an employer, except for wages or other specified reasons, and prohibits employers from making such payments.

McMaster, 47, was accused of taking and Wolff, 51, of giving the payments between December 1956, and July 1, 1959.

The jury said the payments made through Ram Transport, Inc., a Michigan corporation headed by McMaster.

Wolff was identified as president and principal stockholder of the Youngstown Cartage Co., Youngstown, Ohio.

Local 299 has about 15,000 members and is one of the largest locals in the Teamsters Union.

George Roxburgh, a business agent of the local, was indicted by the same grand jury Oct. 6 and similar charges were brought against two officials of a Teamsters local in Chicago last month.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Health care payments to Ohio's old age pensioners from July through October reached an all-time high, State Auditor James A. Rhodes reported today.

The cost during the four months of this fiscal year amounted to $5,489,056, a jump of $1,304,766 or 31 per cent over the $4,184,290 required to finance the program during the same period last year.

October payments of $1,430,434 were the highest of any month, he said.

Navy To Haul A-Garbage'

Radioactive Waste At South Pole Eyed

HONOLULU (AP) — The Navy will conduct history's longest "garbage collection" to assure strict American adherence to a new international treaty involving ice-capped Antarctica, it was reported today.

Radioactive wastes from two nuclear power reactors to be built in the world's coldest continent will be picked up, perhaps twice a year, by ships from the United States.

Roundtrips for collecting this component of the "garbage" of the atomic age will be about 24,000 miles, said Capt. Edward Conrad of the office of the chief of naval operations, who stopped here en route to the antarctic.

Source of the garbage will be a reactor near the coast of the continent and another deep inland, designed to furnish light, heat and power for two key American installations.

The need to haul away the wastes arises from a treaty under which 12 nations, including the United States and the Soviet Union, pledged to preserve Antarctica for peaceful scientific purposes only.

Nuclear weapons tests are banned. The conducting of nuclear explosions for peaceful purposes—and the dumping of radioactive wastes—also are banned, at least until some international control agreement is reached.

Conrad is heading for the Antarctic to inspect the site and building preparations to house the first reactor at McMurdo Sound on the Ross Sea.

It is due to reach the Antarctic around Dec. 15 and begin generating nuclear energy in March of next year.

The second reactor is to be located at the Byrd station only 700 miles from the South Pole. Shipment is planned for late 1963, with initial operation in March 1964.

Girl Assured Santa Unhurt By Fallout

MARINE CITY, Mich. (AP) — An 8-year-old Marine City girl has presidential assurance today that Santa Claus is not suffering from the effects of atmospheric nuclear tests by the Russians.

Michelle Rochon, a school girl in this southeastern Michigan community, wrote to President Kennedy last week. Michelle expressed concern for the safety of Santa Claus since Soviet nuclear tests were close to the North Pole.

Today, Michelle said she received an answer from President Kennedy.

The President's letter said, in part: "I share your concern about the atmospheric testing by the Soviet Union, not only for the North Pole but for countries throughout the world; not only for Santa Claus, but for people throughout the world."

"However, you must not worry about Santa Claus. I talked with him yesterday and he is fine. He will be making his rounds this Christmas."

Candidates for Governor Urged To Speak Up

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. Michael V. DiSalle suggested today that all prospective candidates for governor might well make their intentions known before the legislature reconvenes Nov. 14.

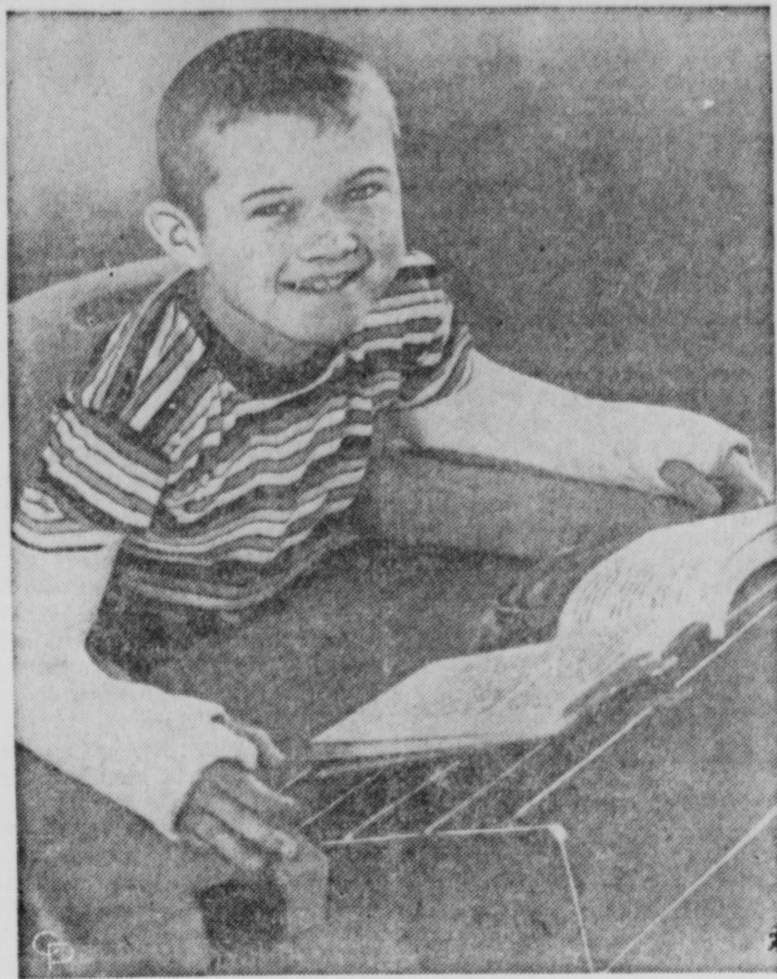

He said the comment applied to candidate possibilities in both parties. "It would give them (the candidates) a chance to let the people know how they feel," the governor said.

DiSalle has announced he will not be a candidate for a second term in 1962, preferring to fight for his governmental programs without the burden of candidacy, as he puts it.

CHS Junior Class To Present 'Bull in a China Shop' Soon

"Bull in a China Shop," by Bernard Gilford, has been selected as the Circleville High School Junior Class Play set for presentation at 8 p. m. November 16 and 17.

Robert Ransom, director, announced today that co-directors from the senior class will be Dora Greene and Carole Sue Guseman.

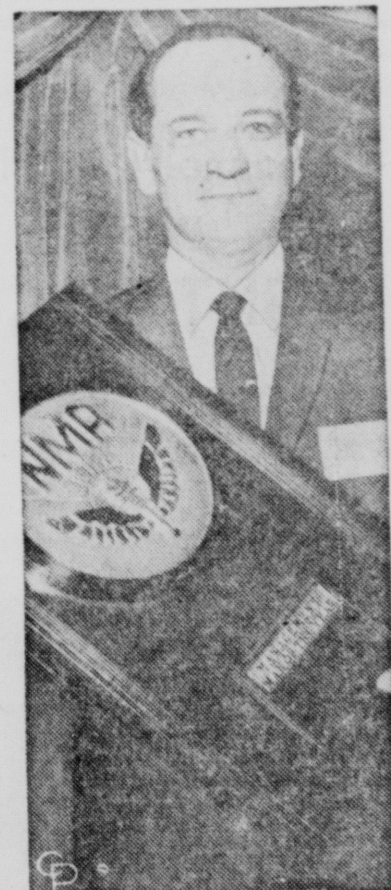

"Bull in a China Shop," awarded the Best Mystery Story Award in 1957, was produced recently on Alfred Hitchcock Presents, a television program.

The plot revolves around six lonely old maids: "Miss Heldegard," played by Carolyn Walters; "Miss Birdie," played by Carol Smalley; "Miss Amantha," Beth Rickey; "Miss Lucy," Jo Ann Gibbs; "Miss Nettie," Nancy Harden; and "Miss Elizabeth," played by Judy Reihmiller.

The sextette of old maids is in love with their next door neighbor, "Captain O'Finn," a homicide detective, played by Skip Hanson.

The old maids try everything to get O'Finn's attention, but to no avail. Finally they decide one of them must be murdered in order to get the detective to visit them.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—At the very moment when he needed the utmost freedom and support at home in dealing with the West on Berlin, Premier Khrushchev has stifled his critics and gotten the full support of the Russian Communist party.

For him the throwing of Stalin's body out of its tomb meant getting a troublesome ghost off his back.

Stalin died in 1953 exactly at the end of an era. Khrushchev took over at the beginning of a new one which needed new ideas for dealings at home and abroad.

So long as Stalin remained a Communist saint, entombed in Moscow Square alongside Lenin, those who disagreed with Khrushchev's way of doing things, when they differed from Stalin's, could accuse him of heresy.

This is exactly what was done by the Red Chinese, the Albanians, and some of the old Bolshevik companions of Stalin, like Vyacheslav Molotov who, although reduced to a minor position, this year still condemned Khrushchev's tactics.

If Khrushchev, in anger or exasperation, had sought by himself to downgrade Stalin or banish him from his tomb to get rid of the memory of him, he would have been accused not only of heresy but of sacrilege.

So he had the Russian Communist party at its 22nd congress this month do it for him when more than 5,000 cheering delegates ordered Stalin's body taken from its tomb and a monument built in Moscow to the victims of his tortures and purges.

Now the Molotovs, the Albanians, the Red Chinese—if they still want to find fault—must do it with the entire Russian Communist party, not with Khrushchev whom the party has so grandly supported.

But it has taken Khrushchev five years to achieve this final degradation of Stalin, pretty good evidence that after he first denounced Stalin in 1956:

1. The myth of Stalin, who the Russian people had been taught was always right, still persisted and remained a measuring stick by which to judge every new or different action Khrushchev took.

2. He had encountered a lot of criticism and even opposition within the Russian Communist party itself in his efforts to free his hands from the grip of the dead man.

Even one year later, in 1957,

A highlight of Hoffman's program was a film entitled "Fallout: When and How to Protect Yourself against It." The chemical engineer elaborated on the subject and explained the danger of "fallout" and how to make shelters and methods of measuring radiation.

A question and answer period followed the program. Students were offered the opportunity to ask pertinent questions.

a new world, different from the one he always knew, was coming to birth. New nations, freshly freed from colonialism, were being born.

New techniques for dealing with them were needed. The Russians couldn't overrun Africa and Asia as they had overrun the satellite nations of Europe in the war Stalin was unsuited. Men in authority have two main instruments for trying to impose their will on others: persuasion and power. Stalin knew only power as he demonstrated in Korea and the Berlin blockade.

At the time of his death, Russia lacked the power of its main adversary: the United States. This country at the time of Stalin's death had the hydrogen bomb and Russia didn't. Russia didn't develop its own hydrogen weapon until some months after Stalin's death.

But once it got it—just because its power of annihilation was so enormous—one wrong step by either great power could mean annihilation for both. So new tactics—like subversion, guerrilla war, foreign aid, propaganda, just to mention a few—were needed.

Khrushchev himself perhaps best summed up his realization of why and how he had to shove the memory of Stalin out of sight when, in 1959, explaining his attacks on Stalin, he said it had to be done to "liberate the creative forces of the people, to open the road toward something new."

Yet, from this moment on Khrushchev is not likely to have peace in his lifetime. For, having degraded Stalin with party support, no matter how hard he works he must always wonder whether the same thing will happen to him when he's dead and some successor wants to free himself from the memory of Khrushchev.

Experiment in Survival

Camp Century, a study in self - preservation under the most extreme conditions, has completed its first season. It was a successful test, but as the commander of the 80 - man garrison commented, "five months is the most to ask any man to stay there."

"There" is an eight - building, six-street village carved out of solid ice 45 feet below the Arctic ice cap on the northwest coast of Greenland, 900 miles from the North Pole. Only 18 escape hatches lead from the subsurface ice caverns to the snow-covered surface, and no man leaves his ice haven unless it becomes essential to his health.

A nuclear reactor provides 68 degrees warmth in the buildings, although it is as

Nuclear Fatalism

While Americans are now alleged to be almost falling over themselves in their avidity for provisioned fallout shelters (a picture few persons have been able to substantiate by personal observation), the U. S. is apparently the only nation that is taking any interest.

Europeans, far closer to Russian rocket sites, have no shelters, no evacuation routes and few civil defense plans. As for U. S. official policy relating to military personnel and dependents if war starts, the only definite plans are to evacuate 487,000 wives and children of service men in Europe if there is time.

Europe has, in fact, developed a vast fatalism. There had been some planning

Old-Time Halloween Recalled

NEW YORK (AP) — Whatever happened to the old-fashioned Halloween?

This is the night bats fly, witches cackle weirdly as they soar through the sky on jet-fast broomsticks, and skeletons dance in their bones in the streets, pursued by red devils with rubber pitchforks.

Your doorbell may ring many times. If you open it you are likely to see a group of small costumed monsters, each holding up a container.

"Trick or treat!" they yell in chorus.

"Treat, if you please," you answer, and if you hand them a dime each or some pieces of candy, the mollified monsters go on to the next door, usually followed at an unobtrusive distance by a cautious parent.

But what happens if you reply, "Trick!"

Probably nothing. The tiny monsters look uncertainly at each other, then go away. They are so used to getting treats they don't know any tricks to play on a householder to force him into granting their demands.

I don't know when this "trick or treat" ultimatum got started, but a generation ago it wasn't so popular in many parts of the country.

Halloween wasn't an evening of harmless fun but the most dreaded night of the year to grownups. Children were generally more obedient to their elders in those days, but one night of the 365 they threw off the halters and roamed like wild things.

The kids then didn't seek treats from adults. On Halloween they wanted to play tricks. They were one-night rebels, out to ridicule and humiliate the grownups. They were in full revolt against authority.

In the farm areas robust teenagers took a particular joy in pushing over outhouses. In the cities they spilled garbage pails on front porches. They soaped store windows, cars, home windows. They painted or chalked defiant messages on the steps or sidewalks of "the old crank" who seemed to dwell in every neighborhood.

The old-fashioned Halloween was a nuisance and an annoyance to most adults, a time of vexation and often of expense, as some of the pranks were costly if not downright dangerous.

Halloween now—like the Fourth of July—has been gentled into a safer and more harmless holiday. The little demons prefer to be bribed rather than play tricks.

There are those who feel this is because grownups over the years have wisely learned to channel the excess of juvenile spirits into less harmful forms of fun. This might be giving grownups credit for more wisdom than they deserved.

Possibly a better explanation: Why should children rebel any longer on Halloween—since the little demons already have the adult world under their thumb the rest of the year anyway?

Little Scraps of Paper

History is made up of little scraps of paper which show up to correct immediate impressions.

During all the years that Franklin D. Roosevelt was president of the United States he exhibited a strong distaste for Herbert Hoover. In fact, Roosevelt's press agent, Charley Michelson, devoted himself to tarnishing Mr. Hoover's reputation and undoubtedly brought upon him great misery. On the other hand, no sooner had Harry Truman become President than he enlisted Hoover's services and he kept him at work steadily during his administration.

I am minded of this by a letter from Franklin D. Roosevelt to Hugh Gibson who was then Minister to Poland. The letter is dated January 2, 1920. Roosevelt at that time was the Assistant Secretary of the Navy and Hoover was the food administrator of the Western World. I shall quote two pertinent paragraphs of Roosevelt's letter to Gibson:

"Many thanks for your Christmas card. It is good to hear from you and we get occasional scraps of news about you and your work in Poland. I envy you the experience in many ways, and congratulate you also on the splendid way you are handling things."

"It must be wonderfully interesting — certainly far more so than in Washington at this particular time. I had some nice talks with Herbert Hoover before he went West for Christmas. He is certainly a wonder, and I wish we could make him President of the United States. There could not be a better one."

At that time the Democrats wanted to nominate Herbert Hoover as a Democratic candidate for President. I was then living in China and was very closely associated with Tong Shao-yi whose family had employed Herbert Hoover as an engineer, which started his career.

The Republicans sent emissaries to China to get the dirt on Hoover. The story they spread was that Hoover had robbed the Chinese. Tong Shao-yi, who had been the last Prime Minister under the monarchy and the first under the Republic, came to Hoover's defense.

I was present at all the sessions between Tong and the Republicans and know how disappointed they were that they could not find any evidence against one who was to be a Democratic candidate for President.

Some years later, Democratic emissaries showed up in Shanghai for the same purposes, that is, to smear Herbert Hoover. Again they came to Tong Shao-yi who had the Elder of the clan which had employed Hoover. The Democrats, did no better than the Republicans, except that Tong offered to come to the United States to defend Hoover if necessary.

In 1930, I made a visit to the United States and called on Herbert Hoover in the White House to bring him greetings from his friends in China. They felt about this man as Franklin Roosevelt did in 1920.

The years have passed. Hugh Gibson is dead and a younger generation hardly remembers one of our foremost diplomats who played a great part in the years after World War I. Franklin Roosevelt, who wanted to make Hoover President, was himself elected four times — a demigod to some and hated by others. He lies at Hyde Park not altogether forgotten.

Herbert Hoover, senior to both in years, lives on, active, effective, writing every day volumes which make history and presently working on a task that will take, he thinks, two years to finish.

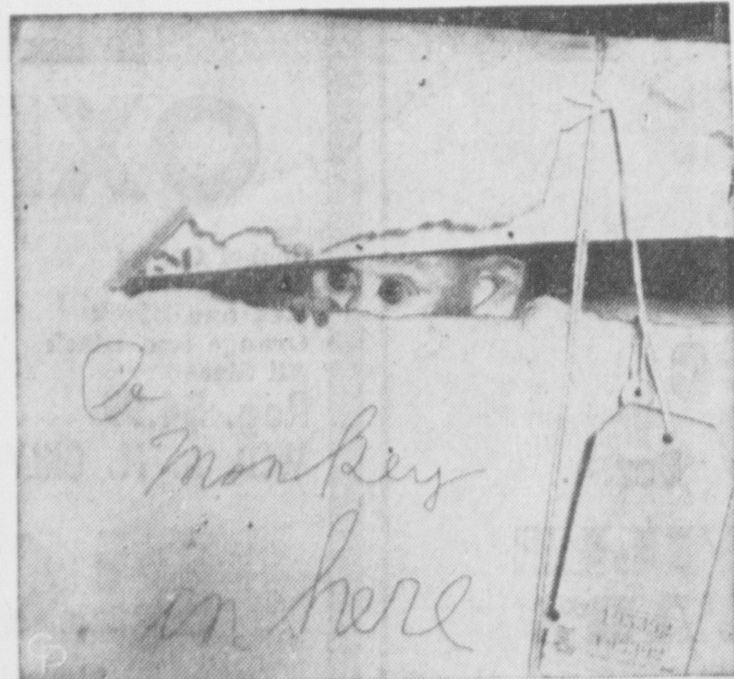

Hoover hates no one and that may be the reason that he lives so long and effectively. He is not poisoned by personal ambition nor political vindictiveness. Franklin D. Roosevelt had his wish and Hoover was elected to the Presidency by an enormous vote only to be repudiated by the course of events arising from an accumulation of errors of his predecessors. For actually, he had no time in office to create the conditions for which he had been blamed.

Some day a keen historical mind will describe that day in 1933 when Hoover, Roosevelt, Raymond Moley and Ogden Mills sat in the White House to discuss the frightful conditions of the country. Hoover was on his way out and could do little without the assistance of Roosevelt who was on his way in. And Roosevelt said that he would do nothing as it was Hoover's baby.

This is an interesting page of history.

DOG LOVERS will be interested in the story of a poodle in Connecticut who objects so violently to the telephone that each time it rings, he jumps on the desk and bites through the wire. After replacing the wire several times—in places the supervisor foolishly figured the poodle wouldn't be able to get at it—a new strategem was called into play. The phone bell was replaced by a chime. Now, every time the phone chimes the poodle races to see who's at the door.

If we know poodles, however, this new trick will work out just so long. That pooch will have things figured out inside of another two weeks.

How could certified raw milk make him sick?

Pete only drank one glass. But that's enough to give you brucellosis — an infection caused by Brucella germs of cattle, pigs and goats.

About two weeks later Pete began to feel weak. The infection didn't strike with the shaking chills, feverish flush and complete collapse it often brings. Pete merely felt pooped.

Soon his head throbbed and his neck ached. Night sweats drenched his bed. He'd wake up cool and chipper, but each evening his temperature steam-rolled up to 104 degrees, flattening him again.

After several days, the fever began to fade and return, fade and return. His temperature chart looked like a wiggling, undulating snake. Brucellosis is also called undulant fever.

Pete wouldn't eat. Every bone ached. Sleepless and irritable, he'd explode with atomic fury when he had to take medicine.

Doctors were puzzled. They couldn't find any germs in his system. His blood contained no antibodies against Brucella infection. Later, when a second test revealed growing rivers of antibodies, doctors knew he had brucellosis.

Now they wheeled in a big guns — sulfa drugs and antibiotic germ-killers. Pete had to take these for a month and rest still longer.

Brucella bacteria are hard to reach inside body cells. But sooner or later they surrender.

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP) — Illness—and its prevention—grows more costly. Individuals don't have to be told this. And business is finding it more expensive, too. Both are well aware of the rise in medical and hospital costs in recent years.

More firms are offering employee medical services. This grows both more extensive and more expensive. Companies also are increasingly involved in meeting all or part of their employees' health insurance costs.

Medical fees and hospital care grow more expensive because costs themselves have gone up but also because care is increasingly being widened and improved.

Hospitals have higher operating costs and pay employees more. They also offer services today with equipment unknown a few years back. New drugs, new doctoring and nursing techniques, new equipment—all push up costs. Adding to the total outlay is that Americans, with increased incomes, are seeking more medical care all the time. Each year a larger share of the spending is for prevention rather than cure.

This all adds up to more than $16 billion a year that Americans now pay for medical service. Many individuals have had to go into debt to meet costs in major emergencies. But many have had help from various sources little used by earlier generations.

One is from health insurance payments. Insurance companies are estimated to have paid out $3 billion in benefits in 1960.

A second aid to individuals faced with illness or accidents is the growing role of corporate medical departments.

Those offer services all the way from preventative shots for influenza and other epidemics and patching up of on-job injuries to regular and complete medical examinations—the latter usually for the top echelon of executives or key employees.

Bridegroom's Alert

TULSA (AP) — Sometimes marriage must wait for national defense.

Bobby John Schultz and Marsha Ann Cheek were being married when a practice alert sounded. Schultz and two members of the wedding party are members of the 45th Division of the National Guard.

When they dashed out, Miss Cheek waited and when they came back the ceremony resumed and she became Mrs. Schultz.

The National Industrial Conference Board finds the cost of such services up more than 10 per cent in the last five years for 96 companies queried. The firms now pay about $17.5 million a year to provide medical facilities for 890,000 employees.

Vital statistics disclose that men today average an inch taller than their fathers and two inches taller than their grandfathers. And they used to call the 1800s 'Longfellow's time'!

Boys of 18 to 20 are as tall as today's 30-year-old men. The younger generation is measuring up.

Men weigh more today, too. However, in these democratic times they do not necessarily carry more weight.

There are twice as many six-footers entering college today as in 1920. That's higher education.

Women's average height is 5-foot-4½, two inches taller than in 1900. That's in their nylon stocking feet as against cotton stocking feet.

Women's weight has risen from an average of 120 in 1900 to 127 now, in spite of all.

Dr. Millicent Hathaway of the Agriculture Department credits this height increase to nutritious foods and good diet. She means we're eating up.

Nearly all White House visitors are being introduced to rocking chair diplomacy. The President isn't going to get caught off his rocker.

The rocking chair has a disarming effect. Diplomats come in expecting give and take, and they get to and fro.

Since that vertebra trouble, Kennedy has been very careful about climbing in and out of limousines. Probably a matter of autosuggestion.

Miss Rita Jean Cook Weds John Andrew Hall, Oct. 22

MRS. JOHN ANDREW HALL

Baskets of white gladioli and chrysanthemums banked the altar of Trinity Lutheran Church for the wedding of Miss Rita Jean Cook and Mr. John Andrew Hall. The Rev. Carl G. Zehner officiated for the double-ring ceremony at 4:30 p. m. Sunday, Oct. 22.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee H. Cook, 219 Linden Lane. Mr. and Mrs. Hallyn F. Hall, Lyons, Colorado, are parents of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Carl Herrmann offered a program of organ selections for the service.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore an exquisite ballerina-length gown fashioned of chantilly lace and silk organza. The bridal gown featured a lace top with portrait neckline, bracelet-length sleeves and a pointed basque bodice. The bouffant silk skirt was highlighted by a wide hem.

A queen's crown, festooned in pearls and crystals, held her draped fingertip veil of sheer bridal illusion and she wore a necklace of white pearls. She carried a bouquet of small white chrysanthemums centered with a white orchid.

Miss Lynn Reichelderfer was maid of honor. She was gown in pale orchid organza with a small veil of illusion in matching color. She carried a nosegay of pale orchid chrysanthemums.

Richard Hall served as best man for his brother and guests were seated by Mr. William A. Bennett and Mr. David Cupp.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Emmitt L. Crist, 217 Linden Lane. To welcome the guests, Mrs. Cook, mother of the bride, selected a gold brocade gown with which she combined beige accessories and an ivory cymbidium orchid corsage.

Mrs. Hall, mother of the bridegroom, was in a navy-blue crepe ensemble which she complemented with matching accessories. A cymbidium orchid corsage accented her outfit.

For the reception buffet table, a centerpiece of gold, white and bronze chrysanthemums was flanked by white candleabra.

Hostesses for the occasion included Mrs. Emmitt L. Crist, Miss Susan Reichelderfer and Miss Pamela Cupp.

Later in the day, the newly-married couple left for a tour of the Western states. For traveling, the bride wore a sheath dress of brown wool and her accessories were in beige color. For a corsage, she wore a white orchid from her bridal bouquet.

Following their trip, the new Mr. and Mrs. Hall will reside in Lyons, Colo.

The bride is a graduate of Douglas Freeman High School and Smithfield Massey College, Richmond, Va. She was associated with the Home Life Insurance Co. Richmond, Va. and recently with the Circleville Municipal Court.

Mr. Hall, who attended Western State College in Gunnison, Colo., is president of the Colorado Junior International Order of Odd Fellows. He is associated with the Holt Electric Co., Boulder, Colo.

Calvary EUB Trailmakers Hold Oct. Meet

Mrs. Herman Francis, 479 Half Ave., was hostess Thursday evening at a meeting of the Trailmakers' Class of Calvary EUB Church.

Mrs. Manley Carothers read devotions taken from Psalms 107 and presented two readings entitled "How Greatful Are You" and "Three Ways of Giving".

Class President Mrs. Carl Agin conducted the business meeting during which the group voted to order a supply of brooms and dish clothes to be offered for sale by the class members. Also, it was decided to donate twenty-five dollars from the class fund toward the church's Thanksgiving offering.

Mrs. A. W. Goeller had charge of the social hour which featured games with prizes won by Mrs. Bill Ankrom, Mrs. Carothers and Mrs. Gerald Niswender.

The traveling gift was won by Mrs. W. C. Shasteen.

Refreshments were served to 13 members by the hostess, Mrs. Francis, assisted by Mrs. Niswender.

Roger Fausnaugh Observes Birthday

Roger Fausnaugh was honored Thursday at a birthday party in celebration of his 11th birthday in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Fausnaugh, Stouffville.

Mrs. Fausnaugh was hostess for the event where games were played and prizes awarded to the winners.

Attending were: Ricky Collins, Barry Smith, Steve Miller, Wayne Bussert, Carl Reinhold, Bobbie Adkin and Mike and Dennis McFarland.

David Frazier, Larry Prichard, Ricky Rowland, Billy Downs and Buddy Faunaugh.

Mike McCain and Leewood Rhymer sent gifts.

Logan Elm Garden Club To Attend Regional Meet

Miss Yvonne Drake and Mrs. Judson Beougher were hostesses for the Logan Elm Garden Club's October meeting in the home of Miss Drake, Saltcreek Twp.

Mrs. Judson Beougher opened the meeting by reading a meditation. Mrs. Pryor Harmount read an invitation from the Regional Garden Club to attend its meeting in the EUB Church in Chillicothe Nov. 15. Those accepting the invitation may make reservations with Mrs. Neil Morris no later than Nov. 10.

During the business session, an announcement was made that the Logan Elm Garden Club will feature a guest arranger at the club's Nov. 30 meeting in the Pickaway School. Each member is requested to invite three guests to attend the meeting and also to bring a Christmas floral arrangement of her own making to participate in the meeting theme of "Christmas Throughout the Home".

Roll call was answered by each member naming a new bulb she plans to purchase.

Because of the enlargement of the Logan Elm Garden Club's library, members voted to donate 31 books to the Home Economics room at Pickaway School. Anyone is welcome to use these books for reference, but only members are permitted to withdraw them from the room.

Mrs. Harmount gave an interesting talk on the meeting she attended in St. Phillip's Parish House and concentrated her remarks on the portion of the meeting featuring "Dried Arrangements".

To conclude the business session, membership cards were distributed to those present.

A bulb and plant exchange was conducted following the meeting. Mrs. Howard Boggs displayed a beautiful "Thanksgiving Arrangement" which highlighted the dessert course served by the hostesses.

Use Wallpaper and Fabric To Make a Perfect Match

By ELEANOR ROSS

The latest thing in home decorating is to match room fabrics and wallpaper exactly. This trend has its origin in the matching of the exact color of painted walls to rug, slipcovers or upholstery.

Professional decorators often discovered that the use of a single color did wonders for a small room. With bright color accents strategically placed—accents such as lamps, pillows or art objects—the monotone room took on a spacious look and was pleasant to live with.

The next step, entirely logical and one right for any room, was for manufacturers of wallpapers and home furnishing fabrics to collaborate. And so now we have the same patterns, in the same scale, in the same colors, available in both wallpapers and fabrics, both washable.

These artistic match-ups make it easy for the non-professional home decorator—meaning Mrs. Homemaker—to do a successful job.

When handled with discretion, the whole idea emerges as downright inspirational. Of course, like everything else in home decoration, this must be handled with a certain amount of caution.

Here's a word of advice, if you plan to go in for match-ups. Since draperies and slipcovers are going to be popped into the washing machine fairly often to keep them looking fresh and colorful, make it a practice to swab off your walls fairly often, too.

A suds-washing will not only remove the inevitable dust, but will keep the colors of the wallpaper in tune with those of the matching draperies or upholstery. Otherwise the match won't be such a good one at all.

BEST FRIENDS—Because an Indianapolis judge decided a man who loves a dog doesn't belong in jail, Karo Gamble, arrested in a cardboard shack for vagrancy, is free and has a job. The pup was placed in the dog pound and Gamble was given a 90-day sentence. Pleas from citizens got his sentence shortened, and an appeal by a police inspector got Gamble a job at the municipal garage at $1.60 an hour. Gamble and Waterloo are shown at their reunion.

Dear Abby... By Abigail VanBuren

Are You Kidding, Lady?

DEAR ABBY: I can't decide which man I want to marry. One is a car salesman, very good-looking, a year younger than I am, and likes to make me jealous. The other is an Army man, not very "pretty," but very strong and masculine, two years older than I am, and tries to please me.

B.J. FROM N.C.
DEAR B.J.: Marry the Army man. He can cook, sew, make beds, is in perfect health, and knows how to take orders.

DEAR ABBY: We own our home and have a lot of money invested in it, so moving is out of the question. Our problem is next door. For years there was an old boarded-up shack next door to us. Some people bought it and have started to fix it up themselves. Instead of working on it during the daytime, they work on it all night. At twelve o'clock midnight they start in with the electric saw. At two in the morning they are mixing concrete. My husband works days and has to get his sleep at night. Last week we took our bedding out to the garage and slept in our car. Don't suggest talking to them because we don't know what language they speak, but it isn't English. Is there a peaceful solution?

PEACE LOVING NEIGHBORS
DEAR NEIGHBORS: Go next door and try to communicate with them. Surely they will comprehend enough English to understand what your complaint is. If they are unable (or unwilling) to receive your message, ask your local police to help you get it across to them.

DEAR ABBY: You printed a letter from "Needs Advice," who wrote that her 4-year-old son had become terribly attached to a cuddly doll, and refused to go to sleep without it. Maybe she could adopt our solution to the problem.

Last winter our nearly 5-year-old daughter showed no signs of ever parting with her tattered old doll blanket. After we finished our Christmas shopping, she saw a large toy stagecoach she wanted very much. I suggested that perhaps Santa would be willing to trade the stagecoach for her blanket, as he could use it to keep Rudolph warm. She thought it over for several days, wanting both. Before she went to bed Christmas eve, she put her little blanket under the tree. The next morning she was delighted with her stagecoach. She apparently has never missed her blanket because she never mentioned it again.

MRS. SANTA
Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to Abby in care of this paper. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Small tuna or deviled ham cans make excellent rings for poaching eggs. Cut away both ends of the can so edges are clean, wash and dry. Place the rings in the poaching water and drop the eggs into them. Store the clean dry rings and you can use them many times over.

Navy To Haul A-Garbage'

Radioactive Waste At South Pole Eyed

HONOLULU (AP) — The Navy will conduct history's longest "garbage collection" to assure strict American adherence to a new international treaty involving ice-capped Antarctica, it was reported today.

Radioactive wastes from two nuclear power reactors to be built in the world's coldest continent will be picked up, perhaps twice a year, by ships from the United States.

Roundtrips for collecting this component of the "garbage" of the atomic age will be about 24,000 miles, said Capt. Edward Conrad of the office of the chief of naval operations, who stopped here en route to the antarctic.

Source of the garbage will be a reactor near the coast of the continent and another deep inland, designed to furnish light, heat and power for two key American installations.

The need to haul away the wastes arises from a treaty under which 12 nations, including the United States and the Soviet Union, pledged to preserve Antarctica for peaceful scientific purposes only.

Nuclear weapons tests are banned. The conducting of nuclear explosions for peaceful purposes—and the dumping of radioactive wastes—also are banned, at least until some international control agreement is reached.

Conrad is heading for the Antarctic to inspect the site and building preparations to house the first reactor at McMurdo Sound on the Ross Sea.

It is due to reach the Antarctic around Dec. 15 and begin generating nuclear energy in March of next year.

The second reactor is to be located at the Byrd station only 700 miles from the South Pole. Shipment is planned for late 1963, with initial operation in March 1964.

Girl Assured Santa Unhurt By Fallout

MARINE CITY, Mich. (AP) — An 8-year-old Marine City girl has presidential assurance today that Santa Claus is not suffering from the effects of atmospheric nuclear tests by the Russians.

Michelle Rochon, a school girl in this southeastern Michigan community, wrote to President Kennedy last week. Michelle expressed concern for the safety of Santa Claus since Soviet nuclear tests were close to the North Pole.

Today, Michelle said she received an answer from President Kennedy.

The President's letter said, in part:

"I share your concern about the atmospheric testing by the Soviet Union, not only for the North Pole but for countries throughout the world; not only for Santa Claus, but for people throughout the world.

"However, you must not worry about Santa Claus. I talked with him yesterday and he is fine. He will be making his rounds this Christmas."

Candidates for Governor Urged To Speak Up

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. Michael V. DiSalle suggested today that all prospective candidates for governor might well make their intentions known before the legislature reconvenes Nov. 14.

He said the comment applied to candidate possibilities in both parties. "It would give them (the candidates) a chance to let the people know how they feel," the governor said.

DiSalle has announced he will not be a candidate for a second term in 1962, preferring to fight for his governmental programs without the burden of candidacy, as he puts it.

CHS Junior Class To Present 'Bull in a China Shop' Soon

"Bull in a China Shop," by Bernard Gilford, has been selected as the Circleville High School Junior Class Play set for presentation at 8 p. m. November 16 and 17.

Robert Ransom, director, announced today that co-directors from the senior class will be Dora Greene and Carole Sue Guseman.

"Bull in a China Shop," awarded the Best Mystery Story Award in 1957, was produced recently on Alfred Hitchcock Presents, a television program.

The plot revolves around six lonely old maids: "Miss Heldegard," played by Carolyn Walters; "Miss Birdie," played by Carol Smalley; "Miss Amantha," Beth Rickey; "Miss Lucy," Jo Ann Gibbs; "Miss Nettie," Nancy Harden; and "Miss Elizabeth," played by Judy Reihmiller.

The sextette of old maids is in love with their next door neighbor, "Captain O'Finn," a homicide detective, played by Skip Hanson.

The old maids try everything to get O'Finn's attention, but to no avail. Finally they decide one of them must be murdered in order to get the detective to visit them. The ideas of the old ladies and the manner in which they execute them, supply the background for their humorous antics.

Other members of the cast are Patti Hines, Jon Anderson, James Stewart and Eddie Wright.

State Auditor Says Wagering Less at Fairs

Horse race wagering at Ohio's 24 county and independent fairs during the 1961 racing season dipped considerably below the previous year, it was reported today by State Auditor James A. Rhodes.

Complete tabulations showed that betting totaled $643,966, down $77,557, or 10.7 per cent, from total wagers of $721,523 during 1960.

At the same time, Rhodes said that tax refunds paid to officials of the various agricultural societies amounted to $24,093, which was a drop of $1504 from the $26,690 refunded in the previous year.

Under the law, the state collects a tax on wagering at the county fairs just as it does at the large commercial race tracks of the state. Provision is made, however, for the refund of this tax to the county and independent fairs, upon application.

LARGEST refund to be made was $10,847 to the Delaware County Agricultural Society, and was based upon wagers totaling $212,111. This constituted 45 per cent of the total distribution, and resulted chiefly from the heavy wagering during the "Little Brown Jug" pacing race.

Distributions to the other societies included:

Allen, $328.62; Auglaize, $708.15; Champaign, $406.26; Crawford, $689.29; Darke, $1,851.20; Fairfield, $1,507.03; Fayette, $1,621.40; Franklin, $791.91; Jackson, $82.98; Knox, $481.23; Madison, $338.34; Mahoning, $677.04.

Marion, $522.48; Mercer, $291.51; Plain City Independent Agricultural Society, $169.77; Preble, $91.32; Putnam, $350.25; Richwood Independent Agricultural Society, $176.34; Shelby, $221.28; Stark, $357.54; Union, $269.58; and Van Wert, $563.52.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — At the very moment when he needed the utmost freedom and support at home in dealing with the West on Berlin, Premier Khrushchev has stifled his critics and gotten the full support of the Russian Communist party.

For him the throwing of Stalin's body out of its tomb meant getting a troublesome ghost off his back.

Stalin died in 1953 exactly at the end of an era. Khrushchev took over at the beginning of a new one which needed new ideas for dealings at home and abroad.

So long as Stalin remained a Communist saint, entombed in Moscow Square alongside Lenin, those who disagreed with Khrushchev's way of doing things, when they differed from Stalin's, could accuse him of heresy.

This is exactly what was done by the Red Chinese, the Albanians, and some of the old Bolshevik companions of Stalin, like Vyacheslav Molotov who, although reduced to a minor position, this year still condemned Khrushchev's tactics.

If Khrushchev, in anger or exasperation, had sought by himself to downgrade Stalin or banish him from his tomb to get rid of the memory of him, he would have been accused not only of heresy but of sacrilege.

So he had the Russian Communist party at its 22nd congress this month do it for him when more than 5,000 cheering delegates ordered Stalin's body taken from its tomb and a monument built in Moscow to the victims of his tortures and purges.

Now the Molotovs, the Albanians, the Red Chinese—if they still want to find fault—must do it with the entire Russian Communist party, not with Khrushchev whom the party has so grandly supported.

But it has taken Khrushchev five years to achieve this final degradation of Stalin, pretty good evidence that after he first denounced Stalin in 1956:

1. The myth of Stalin, who the Russian people had been taught was always right, still persisted and remained a measuring stick by which to judge every new or different action Khrushchev took.

2. He had encountered a lot of criticism and even opposition within the Russian Communist party itself in his efforts to free his hands from the grip of the dead man.

Even one year later, in 1957,

Khrushchev must have felt a little uncertain about how far he could go in trying to destroy both the myth and memory of Stalin. In that year, despite what he said in 1956, he still called Stalin a "great Communist" and added "this Stalin we do not want to abandon."

As late as 1959 Khrushchev conceded some Communist party members had opposed his attempt to demolish the Stalin image. So long as his anti-Stalinism could be interpreted as a one-man crusade, he was open to conflict at home, even though minor. And the Stalinist Red Chinese could go after him individually.

But now, after the action of the 22nd party congress, Khrushchev can claim full support by his party for his anti-Stalinism for whatever he does that is the opposite of what Stalin might have done. Anyone who differs with him now inside Russia or outside must be considered anti-party and anti-Russian but not anti-Khrushchev.

By the time Stalin died in 1953

1961 Utilities Taxes Figured

Taxes totaling $43,787,762 which are due under the 1.65 per cent levy on the gross receipts of public utilities in Ohio have been computed for the current year by State Auditor James A. Rhodes and certified to the state treasurer for collection.

Total taxes due for 1961 are more than half a million dollars higher than they were last year despite a big drop in receipts reported by several railroads.

The major part of the revenue goes for poor relief.

Electric companies are assessed almost one-half of the total to be collected. Their taxes amount to $20,432,570.18. Next come natural gas companies with taxes amounting to $11,088,480.26, followed by telephone companies with $9,556,367.91. Taxes of steam railroads amount to $2,024,542.97.

THIS 1.65 excise tax on the gross receipts of public utilities for poor relief was first enacted as a temporary measure in 1931 at the depths of the depression. It was re-enacted every two years thereafter until 1959 when it was made permanent.

Rhodes anticipates that sufficient money will come in from this tax during the next few weeks to make the usual advance distribution of poor relief money in December to assist cities and counties which are running out, or have used up, their poor relief money. In recent years this December emergency distribution of relief money has amounted to $5,000,000.

Nudists Prefer Tag Of Just Naturists

LONDON (AP) — The British Sunbathing Association's annual conference has voted that its members will be known as naturists—not nudists.

"If we continue to be known as nudists, we might be confused with strip-teasers," a member explained.

By James Marlow

a new world, different from the one he always knew, was coming to birth. New nations, freshly freed from colonialism, were being born.

New techniques for dealing with them were needed. The Russians couldn't overrun Africa and Asia as they had overrun the satellite nations of Europe in the war. Stalin was subtle. Men in authority have two main instruments for trying to impose their will on others: persuasion and power. Stalin knew only power as he demonstrated in Korea and the Berlin blockade.

At the time of his death, Russia lacked the power of its main adversary: the United States. This country at the time of Stalin's death had the hydrogen bomb and Russia didn't. Russia didn't develop its own hydrogen weapon until some months after Stalin's death.

But once it got it—just because its power of annihilation was so enormous—one wrong step by either great power could mean annihilation for both. So new tactics—like subversion, guerrilla war, foreign aid, propaganda, just to mention a few—were needed.

Khrushchev himself perhaps best summed up his realization of why and how he had to shove the memory of Stalin out of sight when, in 1959, explaining his attacks on Stalin, he said it had to be done to "liberate the creative forces of the people, to open the road toward something new."

Yet, from this moment on Khrushchev is not likely to have peace in his lifetime. For, having degraded Stalin with party support, no matter how hard he works he must always wonder whether the same thing will happen to him when he's dead and some successor wants to free himself from the memory of Khrushchev.

States Add Billion in New Taxes

NEW YORK (AP)—A research organization says 1961 state legislatures put the bite on their constituents for almost $1 billion a year in new or increased state taxes.

Thus, said Tax Foundation Inc., the legislatures pushed the combined total of state revenues, excluding unemployment insurance levies, to a rate of about $21 billion a year—a threefold increase from fiscal year 1948.

The foundation said in its report that West Virginia became the first state to adopt an income tax since 1937 when Maryland and Colorado added the Levy. Alaska started taxing citizens incomes in 1949, but it was still a territory.

West Virginia, which had an income tax but abandoned it after six years in 1941, set a rate of six per cent of federal income tax liability.

The survey showed that rates of existing income taxes were increased by Alaska, Delaware and New Mexico, lowered in California, Georgia, Idaho, Iowa, New York, North Dakota and South Carolina and revised both upward and downward by Minnesota.

The survey also showed that 16 states increased cigarette tax rates by from 1 to 4 cents a pack, 15 boosted drivers' license or car registration fees and five hiked stated gasoline taxes 1 or 2 cents a gallon.

Beer, wine and whisky, corporation income and tobacco other than cigarettes were other popular objects of taxation.

School Party Is Conducted

The Court - Walnut Elementary School held a combined Halloween Party Friday afternoon as black cats, witches, goblins and character interpretations of the Halloween season were paraded at the school.

Refreshments were served following the judging. Children from the Court St. School did not masquerade for the party although they did participate in games and refreshments.

Winners from the Walnut School, kindergarten through grade three, were:

Kindergarten — Karen Sue Tomlinson, Mickie Thomas, Steven Watters, Steven Sabine, Vickie Newman, Danny Jones, Vicki Lynn Rowland, and Lamuel Scott. Grade One — David Starkey, Terry Lockard, Mark Garner, David Pontious, Cindy Hare, Warren Ragland, Dixie Haddox and Beverly Sowers.

Grade Two — Judy Kiser, Ricky Metcalf, Rickey Blankenship, Nedra Dresbach, Christal Hamilton, Michael Speakman, Susan Rossiter and Dennis Speakman.

Grade Three — Debbie McCain, Ralph Mills, Debbie Iles and Mike Sabine.

Gas Rate Cuts Due Some Cities

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Fuel Gas Co. plans to increase consumer rates Dec. 1 by one-half cent per 1,000 cubic feet in Toledo and two Columbus suburbs and cut the rate by the same amount in a number of other communities.

The Columbus suburbs drawing the increase under escalator clauses in their contracts are Grandview and Worthington, the company announced.

Communities where the rate will be lowered include Athens, Findlay, Logan, Middleport, Mount Vernon, Nelsonville Sandusky, Fremont and Alliance.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Snyder of Williamsport were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Betz.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Robey spent a few days in Circleville with their son - in - law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Allen and children and attended the Pumpkin Show.

Miss Gertrude Senff, assisted by Mrs. F. B. Mowery, recently

entertained members of the Mt. Pleasant Garden Club at the home of Miss Senff.

The president, Mrs. Harrison Wolfe, conducted the meeting and led a discussion on autumn gardening chores. She announced the Fal Region 9 meeting of the Ross County Federation of Garden Clubs to be held in the First Evangelical United Brethren Church in Chillicothe Nov. 15.

Following the meeting, a market of plants, winter arrangements, and bulbs was held in the Senff garage. The proceeds were added to the club treasury.

Mr. Loring Hill was the winner in Class A for advanced arrangers, and Mrs. Harrison Wolfe Class B for intermediate arrangers. A Halloween theme prevailed in the 14 triangular line arrangements entered.

Members are asked to take door swags to the next meeting, scheduled Nov. 27 in the home of Mrs. Adrian McVey.

Miss Rita Jean Cook Weds John Andrew Hall, Oct. 22

MRS. JOHN ANDREW HALL

Baskets of white gladioli and chrysanthemums banked the altar of Trinity Lutheran Church for the wedding of Miss Rita Jean Cook and Mr. John Andrew Hall. The Rev. Carl G. Zehner officiated for the double-ring ceremony at 4:30 p. m. Sunday, Oct. 22.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee H. Cook, 219 Linden Lane. Mr. and Mrs. Hallyn F. Hall, Lyons, Colorado, are parents of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Carl Herrmann offered a program of organ selections for the service.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore an exquisite ballerina-length gown fashioned of chantilly lace and silk organza. The bridal gown featured a lace top with portrait neckline, bracelet-length sleeves and a pointed basque bodice. The bouffant silk skirt was highlighted by a wide hem.

A queen's crown, festooned in pearls and crystals, held her draped fingertip veil of sheer bridal illusion and she wore a necklace of white pearls. She carried a bouquet of small white chrysanthemums centered with a white orchid.

Miss Lynn Reichelderfer was maid of honor. She was gownned in pale orchid organza with a small veil of illusion in matching color. She carried a nosegay of pale orchid chrysanthemums.

Richard Hall served as best man for his brother and guests were seated by Mr. William A. Bennett and Mr. David Cupp.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Emmitt L. Crist, 217 Linden Lane. To welcome the guests, Mrs. Cook, mother of the bride, selected a gold brocade gown with which she combined beige accessories and an ivory cymbidium orchid corsage.

Mrs. Hall, mother of the bridegroom, was in a navy-blue crepe ensemble which she complemented with matching accessories. A cymbidium orchid corsage accented her outfit.

For the reception buffet table, a centerpiece of gold, white and bronze chrysanthemums was flanked by white candelabra.

Hostesses for the occasion included Mrs. Emmitt L. Crist, Miss Susan Reichelderfer and Miss Pamela Cupp.

Later in the day, the newly-married couple left for a tour of the Western states. For traveling, the bride wore a sheath dress of brown wool and her accessories were in beige color. For a corsage, she wore a white orchid from her bridal bouquet.

Following their trip, the new Mr. and Mrs. Hall will reside in Lyons, Colo.

The bride is a graduate of Douglas Freeman High School and Smithfield Massey College, Richmond, Va. She was associated with the Home Life Insurance Co. Richmond, Va. and recently with the Circleville Municipal Court.

Mrs. Hall, who attended Western State College in Gunnison, Colo., is president of the Colorado Junior International Order of Odd Fellows. He is associated with the Holt Electric Co., Boulder, Colo.

Guests attended the wedding from Cleveland, Cincinnati, Columbus, Washington, C. H., Lyons, Colo. and Miami, Fla.

Calvary EUB Trailmakers Hold Oct. Meet

Mrs. Herman Francis, 479 Half Ave., was hostess Thursday evening at a meeting of the Trailmakers' Class of Calvary EUB Church.

Mrs. Manley Carothers read devotions taken from Psalms 107 and presented two readings entitled "How Greatful Are You" and "Three Ways of Giving".

Class President Mrs. Carl Agin conducted the business meeting during which the group voted to order a supply of brooms and dish clothes to be offered for sale by the class members. Also, it was decided to donate twenty-five dollars from the class fund toward the church's Thanksgiving offering.

Mrs. A. W. Goeller had charge of the social hour which featured games with prizes won by Mrs. Bill Ankrom, Mrs. Carothers and Mrs. Gerald Niswender.

The traveling gift was won by Mrs. W. C. Shasteen.

Refreshments were served to 13 members by the hostess, Mrs. Francis, assisted by Mrs. Niswender.

Roger Fausnaugh Observes Birthday

Roger Fausnaugh was honored Thursday at a birthday party in celebration of his 11th birthday in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Fausnaugh, Stoutsville.

Mrs. Fausnaugh was hostess for the event where games were played and prizes awarded to the winners.

Attending were: Ricky Collins, Barry Smith, Steve Miller, Wayne Bussert, Carl Reinhold, Bobbie Adkin and Mike and Dennis McFarland.

David Frazier, Larry Pritchard, Ricky Rowland, Billy Downs and Buddy Faunaugh.

Mike McCain and Leewood Rhymer sent gifts.

Logan Elm Garden Club To Attend Regional Meet

Miss Yvonne Drake and Mrs. Judson Beougher were hostesses for the Logan Elm Garden Club's October meeting in the home of Miss Drake, Saltcreek Twp.

Mrs. Judson Beougher opened the meeting by reading a meditation. Mrs. Pryor Harmount read an invitation from the Regional Garden Club to attend its meeting in the EUB Church in Chillicothe Nov. 15. Those accepting the invitation may make reservations with Mrs. Neil Morris no later than Nov. 10.

During the business session, an announcement was made that the Logan Elm Garden Club will feature a guest arranger at the club's Nov. 30 meeting in the Pickaway School. Each member is requested to invite three guests to attend the meeting and also to bring a Christmas floral arrangement of her own making to participate in the meeting theme of "Christmas Throughout the Home".

Roll call was answered by each member naming a new bulb she plans to purchase.

Because of the enlargement of the Logan Elm Garden Club's library, members voted to donate 31 books to the Home Economics room at Pickaway School. Anyone is welcome to use these books for reference, but only members are permitted to withdraw them from the room.

Mrs. Harmount gave an interesting talk on the meeting she attended in St. Phillip's Parish House and concentrated her remarks on the portion of the meeting featuring "Dried Arrangements".

To conclude the business session, membership cards were distributed to those present.

A bulb and plant exchange was conducted following the meeting. Mrs. Howard Boggs displayed a beautiful "Thanksgiving Arrangement" which highlighted the dessert course served by the hostesses.

Use Wallpaper and Fabric To Make a Perfect Match

By ELEANOR ROSS

The latest thing in home decorating is to match room fabrics and wallpaper exactly. This trend has its origin in the matching of the exact color of painted walls to rug, slipcovers or upholstery.

Professional decorators often discovered that the use of a single color did wonders for a small room. With bright color accents strategically placed — accents such as lamps, pillows or art objects — the monotone room took on a spacious look and was pleasant to live with.

The next step, entirely logical and one right for any room, was for manufacturers of wallpapers and home furnishing fabrics to collaborate. And so now we have the same patterns, in the same scale, in the same colors, available in both wallpapers and fabrics, both washable.

These artistic match-ups make it easy for the non-professional home decorator — meaning Mrs. Homemaker — to do a successful job. When handled with discretion, the whole idea emerges as downright inspirational. Of course, like everything else in home decoration, this must be handled with a certain amount of caution.

Naturally, it isn't intended that everything in the room should match exactly. That would be monotony plus. But a sofa or chair that repeats the color and pattern of the wallpaper certainly gives the effect of careful planning and the deliberate repetition that is the signature of the good professional home decorator.

There is a fairly wide choice in these match-ups. There are floral prints, formal bouquet and swag treatments, dignified medallions and scenic prints.

No matter what the design or motif, the patterns tend to be fairly small in scale, thickly clustered. In other words, they are rich looking but not ostentatious or overdone.

Here's a word of advice, if you plan to go in for match-ups.

Since draperies and slipcovers are going to be popped into the washing machine fairly often to keep them looking fresh and colorful, make it a practice to swab off your walls fairly often, too. A suds - washing will not only remove the inevitable dust, but will keep the colors of the wallpaper in tune with those of the matching draperies or upholstery. Otherwise the match won't be such a good one at all.

BEST FRIENDS—Because an Indianapolis judge decided a man who loves a dog doesn't belong in jail, Karo Gamble, arrested in a cardboard shack for vagrancy, is free and has a job. The pup was placed in the dog pound and Gamble was given a 90-day sentence. Pleas from citizens got his sentence shortened, and an appeal by a police inspector got Gamble a job at the municipal garage at $1.60 an hour. Gamble and Waterloo are shown at their reunion.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

Are You Kidding, Lady?

DEAR ABBY: I can't decide which man I want to marry. One is a car salesman, very good-looking, a year younger than I am, and likes to make me jealous. The other is an Army man, not very "pretty," but very strong and masculine, two years older than I am, and tries to please me.

B.J. FROM N.C.
DEAR B.J.: Marry the Army man. He can cook, sew, make beds, is in perfect health, and knows how to take orders.

DEAR ABBY: We own our home and have a lot of money invested in it, so moving is out of the question. Our problem is next door. For years there was an old boarded-up shack next door to us. Some people bought it and have started to fix it up themselves. Instead of working on it during the daytime, they work on it all night. At twelve o'clock midnight they start in with the electric saw. At two in the morning they are mixing concrete. My husband works days and has to get his sleep at night. Last week we took our bedding out to the garage and slept in our car. Don't suggest talking to them because we don't know what language they speak, but it isn't English. Is there a peaceful solution?

PEACE LOVING NEIGHBORS
DEAR NEIGHBORS: Go next door and try to communicate with them. Surely they will comprehend enough English to understand what your complaint is. If they are unable (or unwilling) to receive your message, ask your local police to help you get it across to them.

DEAR ABBY: You printed a letter from "Needs Advice," who wrote that her 4-year-old son had become terribly attached to a cuddly doll, and refused to go to sleep without it. Maybe she could adopt our solution to the problem.

Last winter our nearly 5-year-old daughter showed no signs of ever parting with her tattered old doll blanket. After we finished our Christmas shopping, she saw a large toy stagecoach she wanted very much. I suggested that perhaps Santa would be willing to trade the stagecoach for her blanket, as he could use it to keep Rudolph warm. She thought it over for several days, wanting both. Before she went to bed Christmas eve, she put her little blanket under the tree. The next morning she was delighted with her stagecoach. She apparently has never missed her blanket because she never mentioned it again.

MRS. SANTA

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to Abby in care of this paper. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

White House Announces New Russian Blast

Lingering fallout is the long-lasting radioactive atoms spewed into the stratosphere, to be blown around the world and finally to settle to earth.

What does this amount of fallout mean to public health? The U.S. Public Health Service said last week in a statement anticipating the 50-megaton explosion that the fallout from it and the previous tests should not reach levels that would cause any undue concern.

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower said Monday he thinks the danger of atmospheric pollution by nuclear tests "has been greatly exaggerated."

Speaking in San Antonio, Tex., Eisenhower said the advice he had when president led him to believe tests could continue for many more years without danger.

Another former president, Harry S. Truman, shrugged off the Soviet test with the comment in Chicago: "We set off a tremendous one in the Pacific one time."

Truman likely was referring to the hydrogen bomb device that wiped out an atoll in the Marshall Islands in 1952.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk said the Soviets took a "wholly unnecessary step" in exploding the heavyweight bomb. "If they thought they could intimidate the world they're wrong."

"It was a senseless and pointless thing to do and a wholly unnecessary step that couldn't add to technological, scientific or military knowledge," Rusk told newsmen in Honolulu where he stopped on his flight to Japan.

Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon said in Syracuse, N.Y., that he thought the United States should resume nuclear testing in the atmosphere to guarantee the nation's security.

Clem Is Returned

BALEBORTON, Ohio (AP) — When Gary Sutton, 14, and Carl Bishop, 13, went on a shopping trip they parked Gary's pet, Clem, in a telephone booth. When the boys came back, they found Clem stuck in a coin return slot with only his tail showing.

A telephone repairman rescued Clem, a hamster, by dismantling a coin box.

TOUGH GUY — John Vito Moise, 38, who stands six feet, one inch, sits in New York City's 14th Precinct police station after an encounter with an angry little man with a hammer. Armed with two revolvers and a long knife, according to police, Moise tried to hold up a downtown greeting card shop, owned by Emil Fischer, 64, who stands five feet, six inches. Fischer clobbered Moise with a hammer and sent him reeling outside to the sidewalk, where a police officer nabbed him.

Gay Costumes Displayed by Jr. Leaguers

Ghosts, witches, black cats and other traditional inhabitants of Halloween set the scene for the Junior Luther League party Sunday night in the basement of Trinity Lutheran Church.

Leaguers arrived in costume. Prizes were awarded to: ugliest — Kenneth Henn disguised as a gorilla; prettiest — Ellisa Evans as a Lady of the Nile, and Joyce Valentine as an Hawaiian girl; most unique — Christine Zehner and Sue Gutatz as a two-headed giant; silliest — adhye Henn as a fat clown; and most artistic — Valerie May as a beautiful Christmas package. Judges were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gutatz, Locke MacKenzie and Mrs. Stanley Spring.

Following judging, the masqueraders were led to the Parish House where members of the Family Circle guessed their identity. Returning to the church basement, a variety of games and contests were held, under the direction of Stanley Spring, youth director.

Craig Benzenberg won the boys' fishing contest and the best angler among the girls was Valerie May. The girls' talkathon was won by Ellisa Evans, with John O'Hara out-talking the boys in their contest. Sue Gutatz won the smell-it contest.

THROUGHOUT the evening, Leaguers were escorted, one at a time, through the dark, eerie channels and across a water-filled moat to the mystic chamber of "Madame Marguerite," portrayed by Mrs. Margaret Evans, who "came from India to look into their future."

Joyce Valentine served as chairman of the decorations committee. She was assisted by Sue Gutatz, Christine Zehner, Pam Parker and John O'Hara. Jack-o-lanterns were furnished by Nancy Brobst, Pam Parker, Dick Zahard and John O'Hara. Apples for bobbing were provided by Brad Marshall and Barbara MacKenzie.

The group enjoyed refreshments of cider and donuts and concluded the meeting by singing songs led by Ellisa Evans, with piano accompaniment by Janice Imler. The refreshment committee consisted of Pam Parker, Sue Gutatz, Nancy Brobst and Ellisa Evans.

The next meeting of the Junior Luther League will be Sunday at the parish house. The group will make plans for the sale of Christmas cards.

Nickel Plate Official Faces Added Query

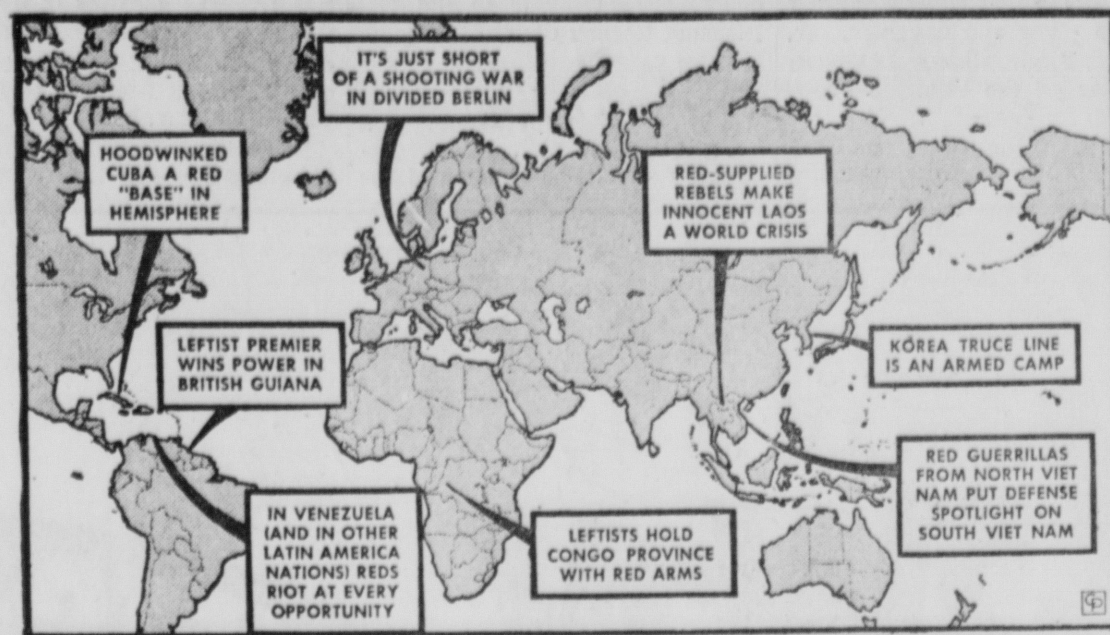

WASHINGTON (AP) — An official of the Nickel Plate Railroad faces further cross-examination today on a proposal that his road and the Wabash Railroad merge with the Norfolk & Western.

John J. Fitzpatrick, Nickel Plate's vice president in charge of traffic, has testified at an Interstate Commerce Commission hearing that the proposed consolidation would provide the three roads involved a better balance in traffic and revenues.

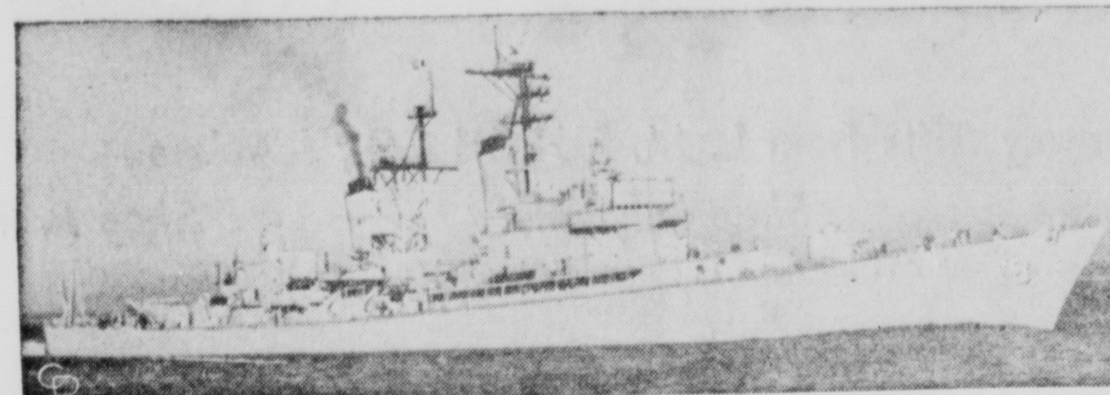

The merger proposal, to become effective, requires approval by the commission.

Fitzpatrick, questioned Monday by an attorney for the Akron, Canton & Youngstown Railroad, said the proposed N&W-Nickel Plate-Wabash system would not create any greater impact of business solicitation than that with which AC&Y now competes.

BG Trustees To Reopen School Probe

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP) — Trustees of Bowling Green State University announced today a decision to re-open cases on two department chairmen demoted by ex-president Ralph W. McDonald. They refused, however, to reconsider the case of Dr. Sherman M. Stanage, former head of the Philosophy Department, who had been notified his contract would not be renewed beyond next June.

A faculty committee will be appointed to consider the demotions of Dr. Howard O. Brogan, former chairman of the English Department, and Dr. Charles W. Young, former head of the Education Department. The committee is expected to be named at the board meeting Friday.

The situation stems from activities subsequent to student demonstrations early last spring against what they complained was unusually strict regulations for censors, censorship of the students newspaper and lack of communication between students and the administration.

Following Easter vacation, Stanage was notified his contract would not be renewed because he failed to develop an outstanding program in religion.

Brogan and Young headed a faculty group which protested the action, claiming Stanage was fired because he upheld students' rights. McDonald, who had announced his resignation, then demoted Brogan and Young.

37th Division Chief Retires after 37 Years

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Brig. Gen. Howard F. Haines retires today after spending 37 years with Ohio's 37th Infantry Division. Gen. Haines, who has commanded the 37th Division artillery for five years, will be succeeded at that post by Col. Wilbur H. Fricke of Waynesburg. The general joined the 37th in 1924 following graduation from Ohio State University. His tour with the Buckeye National Guard division is among the longest in the division's 44-year history.

Records are made to build on, not to stand on!

On October 1st a gentleman named Roger Maris set a new major league record for the number of home runs hit in one season. Mr. Maris could probably sit back now and rest upon his laurels, confident that his record will stand for a few years anyway. But he won't do that. From the first chill day next April when the baseball season opens until the last game of the year, he will be trying to clout that baseball out of the park enough times to break his own record.

That's how we play the game at the Norfolk and Western, too. In the past few years we've set a few new records of our own. Like owning more cars per mile of line than any other major railroad . . . exporting more coal from our piers in Norfolk than is exported from any other port in the nation . . . maintaining an operating ratio (a major measure of efficiency) that is the envy of every other railroad . . . winning the Harriman Railroad Safety Award for seven years.

With records like these, we might be excused if we sat back and rested for a while. But at the Norfolk and Western, records are made to build on, not to stand on. We are determined to run an even better railroad and to give shippers even better service. To accomplish this the N&W has recently:

- 1 Purchased 30 more locomotives, increasing its total to 578 units.
- 2 Authorized construction of another 1,000 jumbo-sized 85-ton hopper cars to join the 2,000 already completed or in production.
- 3 Ordered 100 "damage free" boxcars specially designed to protect cargoes, and 100 new 70-ton pulpwood cars. Both types will shortly join the N&W's fast-growing fleet of 25 different types of special purpose cars.
- 4 Started construction of a new $25 million coal pier in Norfolk that will be the nation's largest and fastest coal-loading pier . . . will lease a huge new $16 million general cargo pier to be built by the Virginia State Ports Authority.
- 5 Spent $624 million since World War II to modernize and improve, including over $41 million in 1960. Some $57 million has been authorized already this year.

Such refusal to be satisfied with today's achievements is typical of the N&W's dedication to better service — typical of the challenging, venturesome spirit that keeps the N&W always going forward to set new records.

Gas Rate Cuts Due Some Cities

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Fuel Gas Co. plans to increase consumer rates Dec. 1 by one-half cent per 1,000 cubic feet in Toledo and two Columbus suburbs and cut the rate by the same amount in a number of other communities.

The Columbus suburbs drawing the increase under escalator clauses in their contracts are Grandview and Worthington, the company announced.

Communities where the rate will be lowered include Athens, Findlay, Logan, Middleport, Mount Vernon, Nelsonville Sandusky, Fremont and Alliance.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Snyder of Williamsport were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Betz.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Robey spent a few days in Circleville with their son - in - law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Allen and children and attended the Pumpkin Show.

Miss Gertrude Senff, assisted by Mrs. F. B. Mowery, recently

entertained members of the Mt. Pleasant Garden Club at the home of Miss Senff.

The president, Mrs. Harrison Wolfe, conducted the meeting and led a discussion on autumn gardening chores. She announced the

Fal Region 9 meeting of the Ross County Federation of Garden Clubs to be held in the First Evangelical United Brethren Church in Chillicothe Nov. 15.

Following the meeting, a market of plants, winter arrangements, and bulbs was held in the Senff garage. The proceeds were added to the club treasury.

Mr. Loring Hill was the winner in Class A for advanced arrangers, and Mrs. Harrison Wolfe Class B for intermediate arrangers. A Halloween theme prevailed in the 14 triangular line arrangements entered.

Members are asked to take door swags to the next meeting, scheduled Nov. 27 in the home of Mrs. Adrian McVey.

States Add Billion in New Taxes

NEW YORK (AP)—A research organization says 1961 state legislatures put the bite on their constituents for almost $1 billion a year in new or increased state taxes.

Thus, said Tax Foundation Inc., the legislatures pushed the combined total of state revenues, excluding unemployment insurance levies, to a rate of about $21 billion a year—a threefold increase from fiscal year 1948.

The foundation said in its report that West Virginia became the first state to adopt an income tax since 1937 when Maryland and Colorado added the Levy. Alaska started taxing citizens incomes in 1949, but it was still a territory.

West Virginia, which had an income tax but abandoned it after six years in 1941, set a rate of six per cent of federal income tax liability.

The survey showed that rates of existing income taxes were increased by Alaska, Delaware and New Mexico, lowered in California, Georgia, Idaho, Iowa, New York, North Dakota, and South Carolina and revised both upward and downward by Minnesota.

The survey also showed that 16 states increased cigarette tax rates by from 1 to 4 cents a pack, 15 boosted drivers' license or car registration fees and five hiked stated gasoline taxes 1 or 2 cents a gallon.

Beer, wine and whisky, corporation income and tobacco other than cigarettes were other popular objects of taxation.

School Party Is Conducted

Creator of Basketball Born One Century Ago in Canada

By SYLVIA ZEIGER
Central Press Association
Correspondent

The sport of basketball, played in more than 75 countries, with more than 2,000,000 games annually played in the U. S., and reported to have more spectators than football and baseball combined, celebrates its 70th birthday and the 100th birthday of its founder, James Naismith, born November 6, 1861.

Naismith, born in Almonte, Canada, grew up in a farming and lumber camp and developed an early interest in physical fitness. Although he prepared for several careers, including the ministry and medicine, he decided as his life work to teach "clean living" through sports.

While director of physical education at YMCA college at Springfield, Mass., it was suggested that Naismith devise an indoor game to fill the gap between the football and baseball seasons. Naismith decided the new game must have a ball tossed at a goal that would be difficult to guard.

He used peach baskets because the janitor couldn't find boxes, and had them nailed to the gymnasium railing which was 10 feet from the floor. Although the sports now boasts of unusually tall players, (tallest player in the American Basketball League is over 7 feet), the basket continues to remain at the traditional 10 feet above the floor. Naismith drew up 13 rules for the original game. These basic rules plus more than 100 others are in use today.

NAISMITH HAD classes, regarding less of size, divided into two teams. Chaos resulted. In one game, more than 100 players participated causing a near-collapse of the rickety building they were in. Gradually the size of team was reduced to the present five members.

Trial and error perfected the game. At first a ladder was used to retrieve the ball after every basket. Later a long stick pushed the ball through a small hole in the bottom of the basket, then a chain-pull was devised to drop the ball. Finally, the open net was evolved.

All was not smooth sailing for Naismith in promoting his game. Charges that the game produced excessive fatigue were discounted by Naismith whose medical knowledge came in handy.

Missionaries and teachers introduced the game in China and India in 1894, France in 1895, Japan in 1900 and Iran in 1901. During World War I the game was played throughout Europe. In 1936 basketball became an Olympic sport.

The success of the Harlem Globetrotters, a Negro basketball team, world-famous for its skill and amusing antics, proves that the game is profitable and good entertainment. They have played in every major city on earth in over 72 countries, over 7,000 games. Their gate receipts for the year total more than a million dollars.

Basketball has provided much-needed physical recreation for the handicapped. In 1946 the game was adapted for paraplegics and other wheelchair patients. It soon spread to other countries and in 1955 became an entry in the Paralympics (Olympics for the Paralyzed).

NAISMITH, vigorous, with good posture and well-muscled body, was the best example of what he preached — the value of sports in promoting physical fitness. He married one of the first girl basketball players; spent his last 40 years as physical education director at the University of Kansas. He died in 1939, aged 70.

CHS Reserves Fell Logan Elm 36-22 in Comeback Triumph

Opening up a stiff scoring barrage in the waning minutes of the second half, Circleville's reserve footballers erased a 22-14 third quarter Logan Elm lead to defeat the Braves reserves 36-22 last night at CHS field.

Leading the way in the comeback triumph were a pair of versatile Tiger quarterbacks, David Bass and Tom Tootle, and half-back Gary Betts, who turned in a 16-point scoring spree.

The win, fourth of the season for the full reserve outfit, was also the most difficult for Circleville. Logan Elm battled the hosts to a 14-14 halftime deadlock and surrendered yardage freely only after tiring near the game's end.

Terry Anderson put the Braves into the lead with 2:20 remaining in the first quarter with a two-yard thrust over the goal line. Quarterback Jeff Lutz, who starred in Friday's Logan Elm varsity win over Scioto, tossed to Mike Clifton for the extra points.

BETTS STARTED the scoring series for Circleville early in the second stanza with a 28-yard touchdown burst. Bass was stopped in his added points try. Four minutes later Betts was off and running again, scampering 22 yards to paydirt this trip. Bruce Horn produced a set of post-TD markers to give Circleville a 14-8 margin.

Anderson evened things in spectacular style with 1:02 to go in the half, blasting 80 yards for a touchdown. Radabaugh misfired on his extra points run to end the period. Anderson was on the prowl again midway through a scoreless third canto, making his way goalward with a five yard trip. Radabaugh added the points for a 22-14 LE lead.

The string was out for the Braves though, as Circleville moved back with vengeance to throttle Logan Elm's victory aspirations.

Bruce Helwagen moved two yards for a touchdown with 1:34 left in the third stanza and Betts slipped through for the extra points to deadlock the game 22-22. Halfway through the final quarter Bruce Horn twisted 11 yards for a tally and Betts again succeeded on the points-after attempt.

Leading 30-22 the Tigers retained possession of the ball during the crucial final minutes, with Bass adding the clincher, a five-yard TD burst, with 16 seconds showing on the clock. Tootle's kick went wide but the Bengals had insured the win.

DEFENSIVELY, Howard Fletcher, Bob Purcell, Jim Barr and Mickey Tomlinson were singled out for plaudits for the way they bottled up the Logan Elm assault in the second half. Bass and Tootle received much credit for the victory for directing the CHS attack to vulnerable spots in the Braves defense.

The reserves close their season Monday with a home test against Amanda's reserve squad.

Michigan State Ace Leads Big Ten Scoring

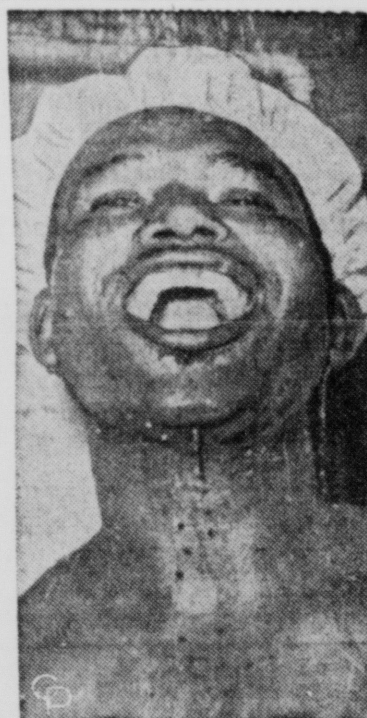

CHICAGO (AP) — Michigan State fullback George Saimes of Canton, Ohio took over the Big Ten all-games football scoring lead this week with a total of 42 points on 7 touchdowns.

Saimes broke a tie with Iowa's Joe Williams by scoring a touchdown in a 35-0 rout of Indiana. Williams, who has 36 points, was blanked along with his Iowa teammates, 9-0, by Purdue.

OSU Pilot Doubts You Can Depend on Scouting Reports

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Woody Hayes, Ohio State football coach, doesn't think you can rely 100 per cent on scouting reports of opposition teams.

Hayes, whose unbeaten Buckeyes take on fifth-rated Iowa here Saturday, laughingly explained to his press luncheon guests Monday how changing offenses and defenses, can upset a team, despite scouting reports.

In last Saturday's Wisconsin game, Hayes related, Buckeye Mike Ingram was supposed to block an opposing guard at a certain spot. But when Ingram charged in, the guard pulled a disappearing act.

As they lined up again, Ingram said to his Badger foe:

"Hey, you were supposed to charge through that gap on that play."

To which the Badger responded with a grin: "Naw, that was last week!"

Mitchell Heads For Army Camp

CLEVELAND (AP) — Bobby Mitchell is off for Fort Meade, Md., today, two days earlier than he was ordered to report for duty with the Army.

But it isn't out of eagerness that the fleet Cleveland Browns' halfback is reporting early. He wants to find out if there is any chance he may be able to play against the Pittsburgh Steelers Sunday and possibly in other games this year.

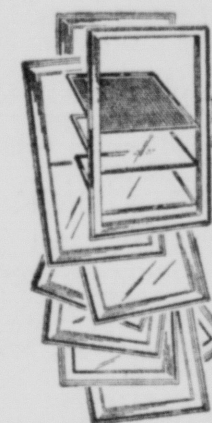

If Mitchell can't play, Tom Watkins, a 6-foot, 195-pound rookie from Iowa State, will replace him in the backfield. Mitchell said he thought Watkins, with whom he worked closely during training last summer, would make a good player.

White House Announces New Russian Blast

Lingering fallout is the long-lasting radioactive atoms spewed into the stratosphere, to be blown around the world and finally to settle to earth.

What does this amount of fallout mean to public health? The U.S. Public Health Service said last week in a statement anticipating the 50-megaton explosion that the fallout from it and the previous tests should not reach levels that would cause any undue concern.

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower said Monday he thinks the danger of atmospheric pollution by nuclear tests "has been greatly exaggerated."

Speaking in San Antonio, Tex., Eisenhower said the advice he had when president led him to believe tests could continue for many more years without danger.

Another former president, Harry S. Truman, shrugged off the Soviet test with the comment in Chicago: "We set off a tremendous one in the Pacific one time."

Truman likely was referring to the hydrogen bomb device that wiped out an atoll in the Marshall Islands in 1952.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk said the Soviets took a "wholly unnecessary step" in exploding the heavyweight bomb. "If they thought they could intimidate the world they're wrong."

"It was a senseless and pointless thing to do and a wholly unnecessary step that couldn't add to technological, scientific or military knowledge," Rusk told newsmen in Honolulu where he stopped on his flight to Japan.

Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon said in Syracuse, N.Y., that he thought the United States should resume nuclear testing in the atmosphere to guarantee the nation's security.

Clem Is Returned

BALBERTON, Ohio (AP) — When Gary Sutton, 14, and Carl Bishop, 13, went on a shopping trip they parked Gary's pet, Clem, in a telephone booth. When the boys came back, they found Clem stuck in a coin return slot with only his tail showing.

A telephone repairman rescued Clem, a hamster, by dismantling a coin box.

TOUGH GUY — John Vito Moise, 38, who stands six feet, one inch, sits in New York City's 14th Precinct police station after an encounter with an angry little man with a hammer. Armed with two revolvers and a long knife, according to police, Moise tried to hold up a midtown greeting card shop, owned by Emil Fischer, 64, who stands five feet, six inches. Fischer clobbered Moise with a hammer and sent him reeling outside to the sidewalk, where a police officer nabbed him.

Gay Costumes Displayed by Jr. Leaguers

Ghosts, witches, black cats and other traditional inhabitants of Halloween set the scene for the Junior Luther League party Sunday night in the basement of Trinity Lutheran Church.

Leaguers arrived in costume. Prizes were awarded to: ugliest — Kenneth Henn disguised as a gorilla; prettiest — Ellisa Evans as a Lady of the Nile, and Joyce Valentine as an Hawaiian girl; most unique — Christine Zehner and Sue Gutzat as a two-headed giant; silliest — a theye Henn as a fat clown; and most artistic — Valerie May as a beautiful Christmas package. Judges were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gutzat, Locke MacKenzie and Mrs. Stanley Spring.

Following judging, the masqueraders were led to the Parish House where members of the Family Circle guessed their identity. Returning to the church basement, a variety of games and contests were held, under the direction of Stanley Spring, youth director.

Craig Benzenberg won the boys' fishing contest and the best angler among the girls was Valerie May. The girls' talkathon was won by Ellisa Evans, with John O'Hara out-talking the boys in their contest. Sue Gutzat won the smell-it contest.

THROUGHOUT the evening, Leaguers were escorted, one at a time, through the dark, eerie channels and across a water-filled moat to the mystic chamber of "Madame Marguerite," portrayed by Mrs. Margaret Evans, who "came from India to look into their future."

Joyce Valentine served as chairman of the decorations committee. She was assisted by Sue Gutzat, Christine Zehner, Pam Parker and John O'Hara. Jack-o-lanterns were furnished by Nancy Brobst, Pam Parker, Dick Zahard and John O'Hara. Apples for bobbing were provided by Brad Marshall and Barbara MacKenzie.

The group enjoyed refreshments of cider and donuts and concluded the meeting by singing songs led by Ellisa Evans, with piano accompaniment by Janice Imler. The refreshment committee consisted of Pam Parker, Sue Gutzat, Nancy Brobst and Ellisa Evans.

The next meeting of the Junior Luther League will be Sunday at the parish house. The group will make plans for the sale of Christmas cards.

Nickel Plate Official Faces Added Query

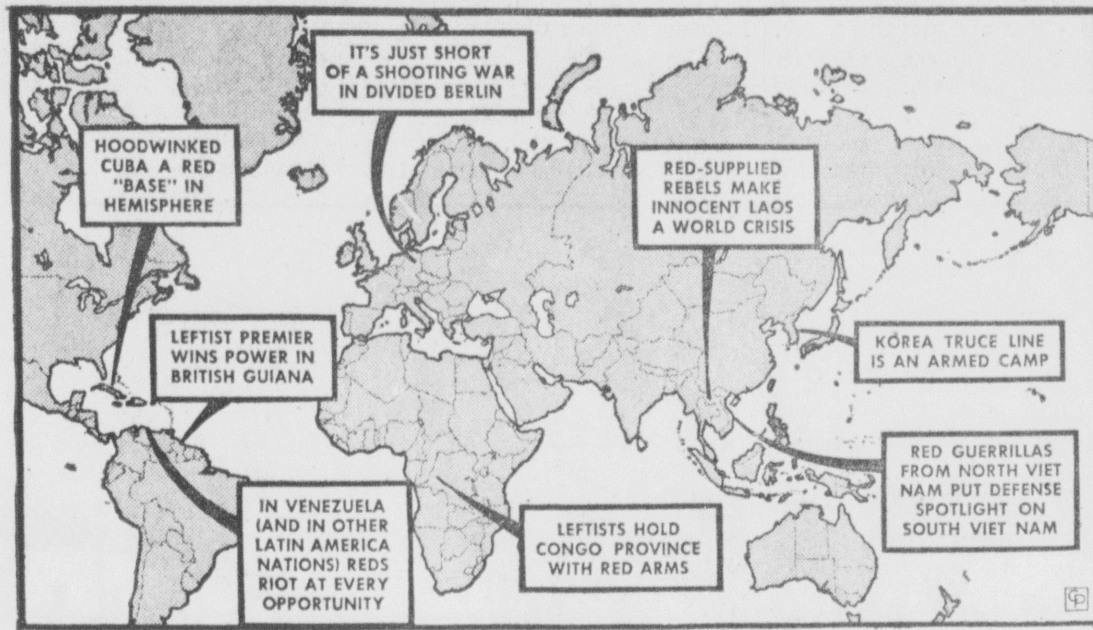

WASHINGTON (AP) — An official of the Nickel Plate Railroad faces further cross-examination today on a proposal that his road and the Wabash Railroad merge with the Norfolk and Western.

John J. Fitzpatrick, Nickel Plate's vice president in charge of traffic, has testified at an Interstate Commerce Commission hearing that the proposed consolidation would provide the three roads involved a better balance in traffic and revenues.

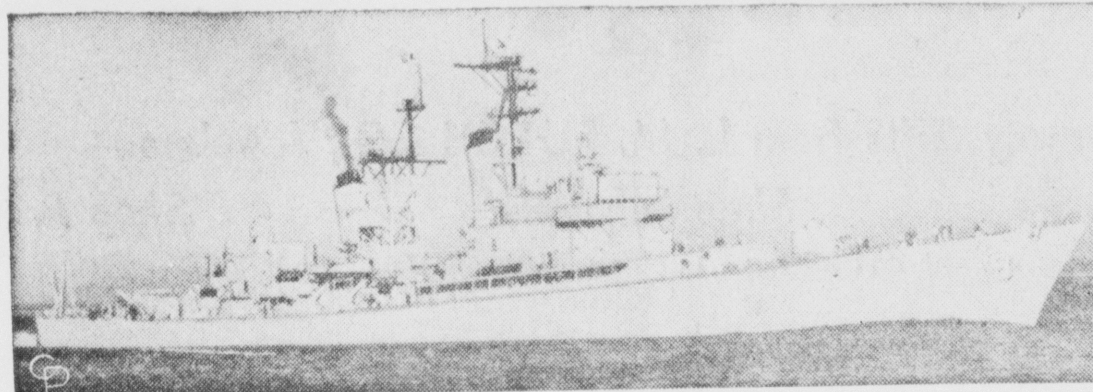

The merger proposal, to become effective, requires approval by the commission.

Fitzpatrick, questioned Monday by an attorney for the Akron, Canton and Youngstown Railroad, said the proposed N&W - Nickel Plate-Wabash system would not create any greater impact of business solicitation than that with which AC&Y now competes.

BG Trustees To Reopen School Probe

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP) — Trustees of Bowling Green State University announced today a decision to re-open cases on two department chairmen demoted by ex-president Ralph W. McDonald. They refused, however, to reconsider the case of Dr. Sherman M. Stanage, former head of the Philosophy Department, who had been notified his contract would not be renewed beyond next June.

A faculty committee will be appointed to consider the demotions of Dr. Howard O. Brogan, former chairman of the English Department, and Dr. Charles W. Young, former head of the Education Department. The committee is expected to be named at the board meeting Friday.

The situation stems from activities subsequent to student demonstrations early last spring against what they complained was unusually strict regulations for censors, censorship of the students newspaper and lack of communication between students and the administration.

Following Easter vacation, Stanage was notified his contract would not be renewed because he failed to develop an outstanding program in religion.

Brogan and Young headed a faculty group which protested the action, claiming Stanage was fired because he upheld students' rights. McDonald, who had announced his resignation, then demoted Brogan and Young.

MATT WHAM, Manager

Records are made to build on, not to stand on!

On October 1st a gentleman named Roger Maris set a new major league record for the number of home runs hit in one season. Mr. Maris could probably sit back now and rest upon his laurels, confident that his record will stand for a few years anyway. But he won't do that. From the first chill day next April when the baseball season opens until the last game of the year, he will be trying to clout that baseball out of the park enough times to break his own record.

That's how we play the game at the Norfolk and Western, too. In the past few years we've set a few new records of our own. Like owning more cars per mile of line than any other major railroad . . . exporting more coal from our piers in Norfolk than is exported from any other port in the nation . . . maintaining an operating ratio (a major measure of efficiency) that is the envy of every other railroad . . . winning the Harriman Railroad Safety Award for seven years.

With records like these, we might be excused if we sat back and rested for a while. But at the Norfolk and Western, records are made to build on, not to stand on. We are determined to run an even better railroad and to give shippers even better service. To accomplish this the N&W has recently:

- 1 Purchased 30 more locomotives, increasing its total to 578 units.
- 2 Authorized construction of another 1,000 jumbo-sized 85-ton hopper cars to join the 2,000 already completed or in production.
- 3 Ordered 100 "damage free" boxcars specially designed to protect cargoes, and 100 new 70-ton pulpwood cars. Both types will shortly join the N&W's fast-growing fleet of 25 different types of special purpose cars.
- 4 Started construction of a new $25 million coal pier in Norfolk that will be the nation's largest and fastest coal-loading pier . . . will lease a huge new $16 million general cargo pier to be built by the Virginia State Ports Authority.
- 5 Spent $624 million since World War II to modernize and improve, including over $41 million in 1960. Some $57 million has been authorized already this year.

Such refusal to be satisfied with today's achievements is typical of the N&W's dedication to better service — typical of the challenging, venturesome spirit that keeps the N&W always going forward to set new records.

Creator of Basketball Born One Century Ago in Canada

By SYLVIA ZEIGER
Central Press Association
Correspondent

The sport of basketball, played in more than 75 countries, with more than 2,000,000 games annually played in the U. S., and reported to have more spectators than football and baseball combined, celebrates its 70th birthday and the 100th birthday of its founder, James Naismith, born November 6, 1861.

Naismith, born in Almonte, Canada, grew up in a farming and lumber camp and developed an early interest in physical fitness. Although he prepared for several careers, including the ministry and medicine, he decided as his life work to teach "clean living" through sports.

While director of physical education at YMCA college at Springfield, Mass., it was suggested that Naismith devise an indoor game to fill the gap between the football and baseball seasons. Naismith decided the new game must have a ball tossed at a goal that would be difficult to guard.

He used peach baskets because the janitor couldn't find boxes, and had them nailed to the gymnasium railing which was 10 feet from the floor. Although the sports now boasts of unusually tall players, (tallest player in the American Basketball League is over 7 feet), the basket continues to remain at the traditional 10 feet above the floor. Naismith drew up 13 rules for the original game. These basic rules plus more than 100 others are in use today.

NAISMITH HAD classes, regarding less of size, divided into two teams. Chaos resulted. In one game, more than 100 players participated causing a near-collapse of the rickety building they were in. Gradually the size of team was reduced to the present five members.

Trial and error perfected the game. At first a ladder was used to retrieve the ball after every basket. Later a long stick pushed the ball through a small hole in the bottom of the basket, then a chain-pull was devised to drop the ball. Finally, the open net was evolved.

All was not smooth sailing for Naismith in promoting his game. Charges that the game produced excessive fatigue were discounted by Naismith whose medical knowledge came in handy.

Missionaries and teachers introduced the game in China and India in 1894, France in 1895, Japan in 1900 and Iran in 1901. During World War I the game was played throughout Europe. In 1936 basketball became an Olympic sport.

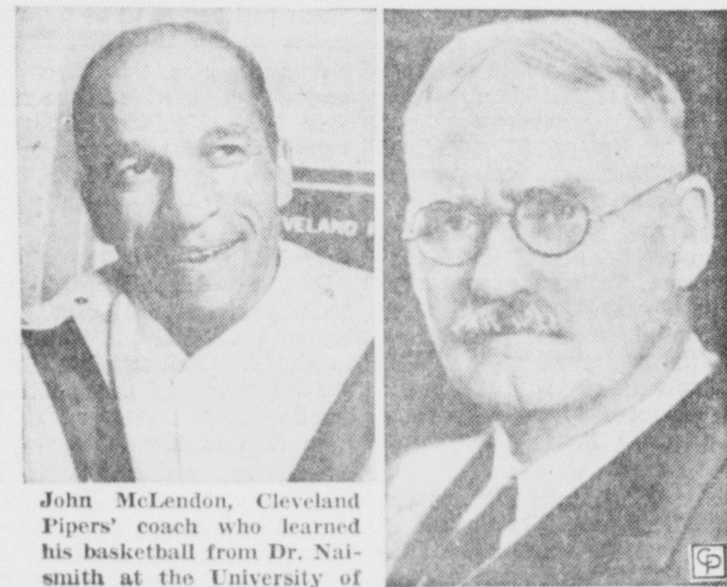

The success of the Harlem Globetrotters, a Negro basketball team, world famous for its skill and amusing antics, proves that the game is profitable and good entertainment. They have played in every major city on earth in over 72 countries, over 7,000 games. Their gate receipts for the year total more than a million dollars.

Basketball has provided much-needed physical recreation for the handicapped. In 1946 the game was adapted for paraplegics and other wheelchair patients. It soon spread to other countries and in 1955 became an entry in the Paralympics (Olympics for the Paralyzed).

NAISMITH, vigorous, with good posture and well-muscled body, was the best example of what he preached — the value of sports in promoting physical fitness. He married one of the first girl basketball players; spent his last 40 years as physical education director at the University of Kansas. He died in 1939, aged 70.

CHS Reserves Fell Logan Elm 36-22 in Comeback Triumph

Opening up a stiff scoring barrage in the waning minutes of the second half, Circleville's reserve footballers erased a 22-14 third quarter Logan Elm lead to defeat the Braves reserves 36-22 last night at CHS field.

Leading the way in the comeback triumph were a pair of versatile Tiger quarterbacks, David Bass and Tom Tootle, and half-back Gary Betts, who turned in a 16-point scoring spree.

The win, fourth of the season for the full reserve outfit, was also the most difficult for Circleville. Logan Elm battled the hosts to a 14-14 halftime deadlock and surrendered yardage freely only after tiring near the game's end.

Terry Anderson put the Braves into the lead with 2:20 remaining in the first quarter with a two-yard thrust over the goal line. Quarterback Jeff Lutz, who starred in Friday's Logan Elm varsity win over Scioto, tossed to Mike Clifton for the extra points.

BETTS STARTED the scoring series for Circleville early in the second stanza with a 28-yard touchdown burst. Bass was stopped in his added points try. Four minutes later Betts was off and running again, scampering 22 yards to paydirt this trip. Bruce Horn produced a set of post-TD markers to give Circleville a 14-8 margin.

Anderson evened things in spectacular style with 1:02 to go in the half, blasting 80 yards for a touchdown. Radabaugh misfired on his extra points run to end the period.

Anderson was on the prowl again midway through a scoreless third canto, making his way goalward with a five yard trip. Radabaugh added the points for a 22-14 LE lead.

The string was out for the Braves though, as Circleville moved back with vengeance to throttle Logan Elm's victory aspirations.

Bruce Helwigen moved two yards for a touchdown with 1:34 left in the third stanza and Betts slipped through for the extra points to deadlock the game 22 - all. Halfway through the final quarter Bruce Horn twisted 11 yards for a tally and Betts again succeeded on the points-after attempt.

Leading 30-22 the Tigers retained possession of the ball during the crucial final minutes, with Bass adding the clincher, a five-yard TD burst, with 16 seconds showing on the clock. Tootle's kick went wide but the Bengals had insured the win.

DEFENSIVELY, Howard Fletcher, Bob Purcell, Jin Barr and Mickey Tomlinson were singled out for plaudits for the way they bottled up the Logan Elm assault in the second half. Bass and Tootle received much credit for the victory for directing the CHS attack to vulnerable spots in the Braves defense.

The reserves close their season Monday with a home test against Amanda's reserve squad.

Michigan State Ace Leads Big Ten Scoring

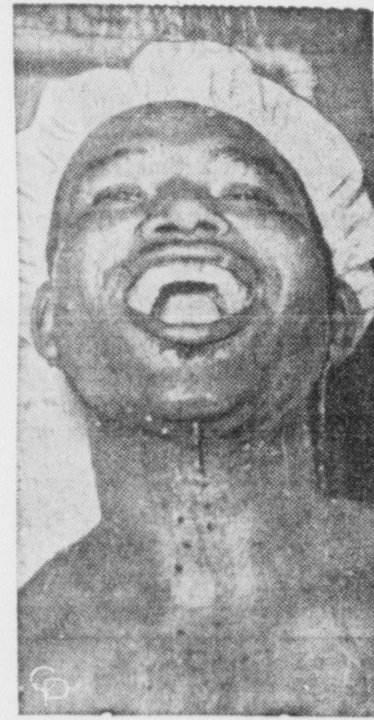

CHICAGO (AP) — Michigan State fullback George Saines of Canton, Ohio took over the Big Ten all-games football scoring lead this week with a total of 42 points on 7 touchdowns.

Saines broke a tie with Iowa's Joe Williams by scoring a touchdown in a 35-0 rout of Indiana. Williams, who has 36 points, was blanked along with his Iowa teammates, 9-0, by Purdue.

Indians Complete 1961 Coach Staff

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians announced today that Ray Katt, former catcher with the New York Giants and St. Louis Cardinals, has been appointed first base coach, completing the Tribe's coaching staff for the 1962 season.

Katt, 34, was a coach with St. Louis during the 1959 and 1960 seasons. He started last season as a trouble shooter in the St. Louis farm organization, but in mid-season was named manager of the Cardinals' Portland club of the Pacific Coast League.

Adios Butler's Finale Scheduled for Nov. 11

WESTBURY, N.Y. (AP)—Adios Butler, king of the pacers, will make the final race of his career the $50,000 National Pacing Derby at Roosevelt Raceway Nov. 11.

Trainer Paige West said Adios Butler will be retired after the 1 1/4 miles pace to stud at Fair Chance Farm in Washington Court House, Ohio.

OSU Pilot Doubts You Can Depend on Scouting Reports

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Woody Hayes, Ohio State football coach, doesn't think you can rely 100 per cent on scouting reports of opposition teams.

Hayes, whose unbeaten Buckeyes take on fifth-rated Iowa here Saturday, laughingly explained to his press luncheon guests Monday how changing offenses and defenses, can upset a team, despite scouting reports.

In last Saturday's Wisconsin game, Hayes related, Buckeye Mike Ingram was supposed to block an opposing guard at a certain spot. But when Ingram charged in, the guard pulled a disappearing act.

As they lined up again, Ingram said to his Badger foe:

"Hey, you were supposed to charge through that gap on that play."

To which the Badger responded with a grin: "Naw, that was last week!"

Mitchell Heads For Army Camp

CLEVELAND (AP) — Bobby Mitchell is off for Fort Meade, Md., today, two days earlier than he was ordered to report for duty with the Army.

But it isn't out of eagerness that the fleet Cleveland Browns' halfback is reporting early. He wants to find out if there is any chance he may be able to play against the Pittsburgh Steelers Sunday and possibly in other games this year.

If Mitchell can't play, Tom Watkins, a 6-foot, 195-pound rookie from Iowa State, will replace him in the backfield. Mitchell said he thought Watkins, with whom he worked closely during training last summer, would make a good player.

Spartans Keep No. 1 Rating

Ole Miss Is Second; Ohio State Is Fifth

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Michigan State and Mississippi, the nation's top two college football powers, tackle tough tests Saturday against upstart opponents.

The Spartans, ranked first Monday for the third week in succession, place their 5-0 record on the line in a Big Ten conference clash with resurgent Minnesota, last year's national champions who just missed climbing into the top ten in the latest rankings.

The Rebels, winners of six in a row in an undefeated campaign in which they've scored 204 points to 13 for their foes, tangle with sixth-ranked Louisiana State University in a Southeastern Conference matchup Saturday night.

Michigan State, also overpowering all opposition with 131 points while giving up only 10, retained the No. 1 spot in the latest ratings of The Associated Press' 47-man committee of sports writers and sports casters.

The Spartans, 35-0 conquerors of Indiana last Saturday, polled 31 first-place votes to eight for the Rebels, who walloped Vanderbilt 47-0 in their latest game. On a point basis, Michigan State received 437 to 407 for Mississippi.

The top teams, with first-place votes in parentheses, points figured on a 10, 9, 8, 7, etc. basis:

1. Michigan State (31) 437
2. Mississippi (8) 407
3. Texas (6) 383
4. Alabama (2) 325
5. Ohio State 267
6. Louisiana State 199
7. Georgia Tech 163
8. Colorado 142
9. Iowa 83
10. Missouri 65

7 Men Are Arrested In Gambling Roundup

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Seven Youngstown area men, arrested Saturday as part of a nationwide raid, were released from jail Monday on $1,000 bond each pending preliminary hearings on charges of wagering without federal tax stamps.

They are Joe Naples, 29; Stephan J. (Skin) Bajnok, 42; Anthony J. (Bad Eye) Naples, 41; Richard J. Jackson, 30, all of Youngstown; Roland (Hawk) Leibert, 30, of Niles; James Dean, 43, of Niles; and Michael Scarpacci, 27, of Warren.

Agents raided 13 spots here and in Niles and seized $5,421.

Notre Dame is represented on the Baltimore Colts roster with center Dick Szymanski and offensive end Jim Mutscheller.

Witches and goblins took a back seat in last night's Halloween Parade as "Mother Goose" copped three of the 19 prizes or $23 of the total prize money.

Bennie Luna, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth E. Luna, 398 N. Court St., with her impersonation of "Mother Goose" won the grand prize of the parade, the best impersonation and second prize in her age division of the competition, 8-14 years.

The Circleville Area and Junior Chambers of Commerce - sponsored parade had approximately 750 participants. More than 300 entered the various classes of competition.

Judges for the masquerade were members of the Jaycees, with Robert Ransom serving as chairman.

THE Circleville and Walnut Twp. High School Bands led the march of ghosts, clowns, pirates, animals, skeletons and spooks through the downtown streets and back to the Blue Ribbon Dairy warehouse, E. Franklin St., where the judging took place.

Refreshments of milk and donuts were served following the judging, through courtesy of the Blue Ribbon Dairy and Lindsey's Bakery.

Someone once said that Halloween is for the "young at heart." First place winners in the age

Red Cross Board Meets

The Executive Board of the Pickaway County Chapter of the American Red Cross met in regular session at the chapter offices, Watt and Pickaway Sts., to discuss projects and hear reports.

It was announced that the Buckeye Council plans for helping with the Christmas Gift Shop at Veterans' Hospital, Chillicothe, are progressing. The Pickaway Chapter will serve as host for the November meeting of the Central Buckeye Red Cross Council. The meeting will be held at the Pickaway Arms.

Mrs. Roloff Wolford, executive secretary, gave the number of home service reports for the month. They are: health and welfare, 3; requests for emergency leave, 1; assistance in request for transfer, 1; location personnel effects, 1; home service loans, 2 (total $200); grant, 2 (total $89.50); and miscellaneous counselling, 7.

Attending were Mrs. Wolford, Dr. Robert G. Smith, Robert Johnson, Mrs. Wells Wilson and Robert Seward.

Leaves on Streets Can Be Dangerous

Police Chief Robert Temple today urged parents to warn their children concerning the dangers of playing in fallen leaves that are piled in streets and curbs during the fall.

Chief Temple said serious accidents may occur to children playing in leaves. He said motorists attempting to park may strike them unknowingly.

Temple also cautioned motorists and pedestrians of dangers involved following rains. He pointed out that wet leaves make streets extremely slippery and that vehicles tend to slide when attempting to stop.

Higgins Is Manager

The new manager of the Spur Distributing Company, 309 W. Main St., is Willard (Ray) Higgins and not Higgins as was reported in yesterday's edition of The Herald.

WANT SOMETHING DIFFERENT?—These masks displayed in an Indian Tribes of Eastern North America exhibit at the Chicago Museum of Natural History could give you a new idea for a Halloween mask. They are from the False Face Society of the Iroquois Indians, who believed masks were endowed with special powers enabling them to dispose of "flying heads" thought to haunt eastern woodlands.

Scioto Grange Sets Thursday Meeting

Scioto Grange No. 2456 will meet 7:30 p. m. Thursday at Scioto School. Following a business meeting a Toy and Gift Party sponsored by the Home Economics Committee will be held in the cafeteria. All members and friends are invited. Refreshments will be served.

Memorial Day began in 1868, on the order of Gen. John A. Logan.

Spartans Keep No. 1 Rating

Ole Miss Is Second; Ohio State Is Fifth

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Michigan State and Mississippi, the nation's top two college football powers, tackle tough tests Saturday against upset-minded opponents.

The Spartans, ranked first Monday for the third week in succession, place their 5-0 record on the line in a Big Ten conference clash with resurgent Minnesota, last year's national champions who just missed climbing into the top ten in the latest rankings.

The Rebels, winners of six in a row in an undefeated campaign in which they've scored 204 points to 13 for their foes, tangle with sixth-ranked Louisiana State University in a Southeastern Conference matchup Saturday night.

Michigan State, also overpowering all opposition with 131 points while giving up only 10, retained the No. 1 spot in the latest ratings of The Associated Press' 47-man committee of sports writers and sports casters.

The Spartans, 35-0 conquerors of Indiana last Saturday, polled 31 first-place votes to eight for the Rebels, who walloped Vanderbilt 47-0 in their latest game. On a point basis, Michigan State received 437 to 407 for Mississippi.

The top teams, with first-place votes in parentheses, points figured on a 10, 9, 8, 7, etc. basis:

1. Michigan State (31) 437
2. Mississippi (8) 407
3. Texas (6) 383
4. Alabama (2) 325
5. Ohio State 267
6. Louisiana State 199
7. Georgia Tech 163
8. Colorado 142
9. Iowa 83
10. Missouri 65

7 Men Are Arrested In Gambling Roundup

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Seven Youngstown area men, arrested Saturday as part of a nationwide raid, were released from jail Monday on $1,000 bond each pending preliminary hearings on charges of wagering without federal tax stamps.

They are Joe Naples, 29; Stephen J. (Skin) Bajnok, 42; Anthony J. (Bad Eye) Naples, 41; Richard J. Jackson, 30, all of Youngstown; Roland (Hawk) Leibert, 30, of Niles; James Dean, 43, of Niles; and Michael Scarpacci, 27, of Warren.

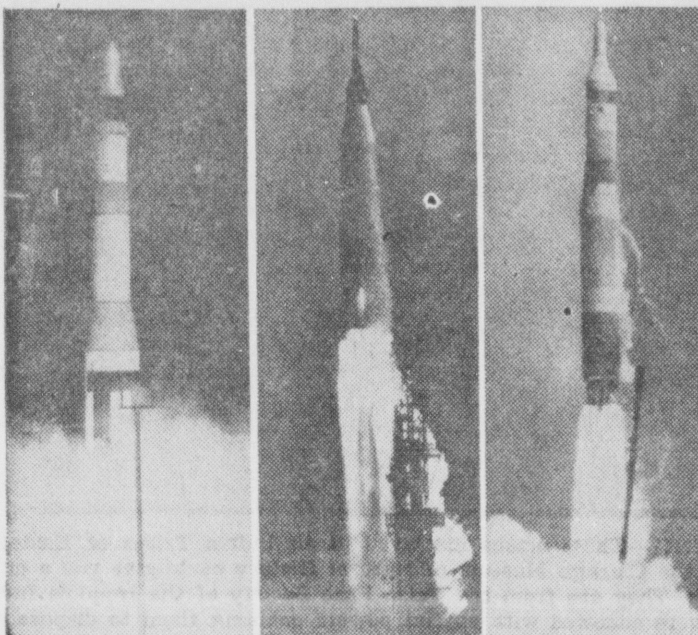

Agents raided 13 spots here and in Niles and seized $5,421.

Notre Dame is represented on the Baltimore Colts roster with center Dick Szymanski and offensive end Jim Mutscheller.

Witches and goblins took a back seat in last night's Halloween Parade as "Mother Goose" copped three of the 19 prizes or $23 of the total prize money.

Bennie Luna, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth E. Luna, 398 N. Court St., with her impersonation of "Mother Goose" won the grand prize of the parade, the best impersonation and second prize in her age division of the competition, 8-14 years.

The Circleville Area and Junior Chambers of Commerce sponsored parade had approximately 750 participants. More than 300 entered the various classes of competition.

Judges for the masquerade were members of the Jaycees, with Robert Ransom serving as chairman.

THE Circleville and Walnut Twp. High School Bands led the march of ghosts, clowns, pirates, animals, skeletons and spooks through the downtown streets and back to the Blue Ribbon Dairy warehouse, E. Franklin St., where the judging took place.

Refreshments of milk and donuts were served following the judging, through courtesy of the Blue Ribbon Dairy and Lindsey's Bakery.

Someone once said that Halloween is for the "young at heart." First place winners in the age

Red Cross Board Meets

The Executive Board of the Pickaway County Chapter of the American Red Cross met in regular session at the chapter offices, Watt and Pickaway Sts., to discuss projects and hear reports.

It was announced that the Buckeye Council plans for helping with the Christmas Gift Shop at Veterans' Hospital, Chillicothe, are progressing. The Pickaway Chapter will serve as host for the November meeting of the Central Buckeye Red Cross Council. The meeting will be held at the Pickaway Arms.

Mrs. Roliff Wolford, executive secretary, gave the number of home service reports for the month. They are: health and welfare, 3; requests for emergency leave, 1; assistance in request for transfer, 1; location personnel effects, 1; home service loans, 2 (total $200); grant, 2 (total $89.50); and miscellaneous counseling, 7.

Attending were Mrs. Wolford, Dr. Robert G. Smith, Robert Johnson, Mrs. Wells Wilson and Robert Seward.

Leaves on Streets Can Be Dangerous

Police Chief Robert Temple today urged parents to warn their children concerning the dangers of playing in fallen leaves that are piled in streets and curbs during the fall.

Chief Temple said serious accidents may occur to children playing in leaves. He said motorists attempting to park may strike them unknowingly.

Temple also cautioned motorists and pedestrians of dangers involved following rains. He pointed out that wet leaves make streets extremely slippery and that vehicles tend to slide when attempting to stop.

Higgins Is Manager

The new manager of the Spur Distributing Company, 309 W. Main St., is Willard (Ray) Higgins and not Higgins as was reported in yesterday's edition of The Herald.

WANT SOMETHING DIFFERENT?—These masks displayed in an Indian Tribes of Eastern North America exhibit at the Chicago Museum of Natural History could give you a new idea for a Halloween mask. They are from the False Face Society of the Iroquois Indians, who believed masks were endowed with special powers enabling them to dispose of "flying heads" thought to haunt eastern woodlands.

Scioto Grange Sets Thursday Meeting

Scioto Grange No. 2456 will meet 7:30 p. m. Thursday at Scioto School. Following a business meeting a Toy and Gift Party sponsored by the Home Economics Committee will be held in the cafeteria. All members and friends are invited. Refreshments will be served.

Memorial Day began in 1868, on the order of Gen. John A. Logan.
